★ 1943 To Be Decisive, For America ★

Few strikes, stable wages higher taxes in coming year

by ROGER W. BABSON

Events are moving at breath-taking speed. Never before has the world been in the midst of such a far-reaching turmoil. Within the next hour news might break that will change the whole course of history. Nevertheless, it is vitally important to keep your perspective. To change your business or investment program with every piece of war news is utmost folly. A good example of this was portrayed when the United States opened up a second front in North Africa. That morning many thousands of self-appointed commentators were convinced that the war was going to last at least five years. Yet by midnight of that same day these same commentators could see nothing but a short war and a quick victory. Let us now, therefore, confine this Outlook to probabilities.

Retail trade

The first quarter of 1943 should equal the first quarter of 1942, considering the entire year, a decline of 12% is probable. Just what will happen depends on two things: first, upon the quantity of goods; and second, to what extent consumers are willing to take substitutes. Washington talks about 300,000 retailers being put out of business; but I believe this is entirely unnecessary. If landlords will be easy on rents, as sensible ones should be, practically all retailers can run on a skeleton force and keep alive until the war is over when business again should be good.

The hope of America lies not with big concerns, but with small businessmen. These small businessmen must be protected in order to preserve democracy. I go further and say that the preservation of democracy depends on small and so-called inefficient manufacturers and retailers to "clutter up" the economic situation. Large units lead ultimately to tyranny. As this is becoming recognized, I think 1943 will see some real help given the small retailers. Of course, no general forecast will apply to all parts of the country. The industrial and agricultural sections should hold up to 1942 figures; but retailers in certain other sections are bound to suffer. After paying their tax bill in 1943, the American people will have left out of their income $36 billions more than they had after paying their taxes in 1940. City restaurants and amusements will prosper most, while filling stations, garages, lumber yards, household appliances and hardware stores will suffer most.

Commodity prices and living costs

Prices of practically all commodities are at their low with the exception of certain ones that are now imported from India, the Far East and Africa. As we are shipping loads of men and supplies to these points, ships may bring back supplies of cocoa, coffee, olive oil, dried fruits, cork, antimony, lead, manganese, hides and skins, mercury, molybdenum, zinc and other commodities. Throughout 1943 there will be a continued pressure to pierce price ceilings. These ceilings will be put down fairly well on goods which the armed forces need.

Thus far the OPA has made no distinction between essentials and non-essentials. Not only is this a very difficult thing to do, but it is good politics to class everyone alike. The war against inflation, however, will never be won in this way. The only way to keep women from buying unnecessary clothes, for instance, is to let the prices of these clothes increase to a point where the price tag hurts. Therefore, during 1943, I forecast a reclassification of the essentials and non-essentials. Prices will be held down on the essentials, but retailers will be allowed to charge higher prices for non-essentials. There will be a little increase in living costs, but care in buying and less waste can more than offset any increases.

Security prices

I believe that the Dow-Jones Stock Averages will go to points during 1943 higher than anything seen in 1942; also that bond yields and stock yields will tend to come closer together. This may mean a decline in the price of low-coupon, long-term bonds and an increase in the price of many stocks. This especially applies to stocks of companies which are not handicapped by cumulative preferred issues or bond issues. Remember, the London Stock Market is witnessing the highest prices it has seen for five years. Certainly, investors are sound asleep in the United States. Even the utilities begin to look better in spite of coming inflation.

The most important question for the investor during 1943 will be,

Thumbnail outlook for 1943

WAR PROSPECTS: United Nations position will improve throughout 1943 with the Nazis coming to the end of their rope in 12 or 15 months. It will take 1944 to beat Japan.

TOTAL BUSINESS: Defense production will be up sharply (plus 50%); non-defense down sharply (minus 33%), accompanied by a drastic standardization

EMPLOYMENT: The above also applies to employment, if we do not include the armed forces.

FARM INCOME: Will be up 5% in 1943 over 1942.

DIVIDENDS AND BUSINESS EARNINGS: Have passed their peaks and will be lower in 1943 than in 1942.

LABOR: There will be practically no strikes until the end of the War and wages will gradually become stabilized.

COMMODITY PRICES: Will strengthen somewhat, especially the prices of manufactured goods. Commodity prices indexes will indicate far less than the actual advance.

TAXES: Will be felt severely, especially by the white-collar group who can expect no pay increases.

RETAIL TRADE: Will be 12% off in physical volume in 1943 compared with 1942.

HIGH-GRADE BONDS: Should decline, but good Stocks should sell higher.

CREeping INFLATION: Will continue throughout 1943.

Choral group to sing 'Messiah' this Sunday

Assisted by a group of outstanding artists, the Northwest Suburban Choral Society will present Handel's great oratorio, 'The Messiah', next Sunday evening, January 3, at 8:00 p. m., in the Presbyterian church.

The associate members of this organization, through individual contributions, have made it possible to offer this unusual opportunity to the public without admission charge or the usual collection. As a reward they expect a capacity audience to accept their invitation and derive inspiration and solace from the divine story of the King of Kings. This monumental choral composition was written by George Frederick Handel two hundred years ago and is today the most popular oratorio in musical literature.

John Macdonald, who will appear as soloist, is well known to those who have had the opportunity to hear him before. John Macdonald is nationally recognized as an artist who besides having a glorious voice, also has the ability to interpret with genuine musicianship. He is in constant demand to sing in oratorio and opera.

Ralph Nyland is well known throughout the country due to his frequent appearances over N.B.C. Mr. Nyland is an impressive and versatile oratorio singer and will bring the recitations and arias assigned to the tenor.

Barbara McWharther, who gave such a good account of herself in her initial appearance last year, will again present the soprano arias as well as some of the numbers usually sung by the alto. Barbara has a voice of exceptional range as well as the gift of musical interpretation.

While the original score calls for an orchestra of considerable strength, the lack of such support will not be missed since the accompaniment is in the hands of a talented and sincere organist, Miss Mercie Heise of Palatine. Miss Heise has graciously given her talent an time to help make this an outstanding performance.

The chorus has rehearsed for weeks with commendable spirit of earnestness and diligence and is ready to give sufficient evidence that they are not only willing to receive the great pleasure from preparing such a great work, but are equally anxious to impart to others what they have received.

Sunday evening, January 3, 8:00 p. m. at the Presbyterian church.

Final diphtheria doses to be given January 5, 6

To complete this year's diphtheria immunization program in the schools, the last dose of toxoid will be given next week in Arlington Heights schools.

Schedule for this third dose is as follows:

January 5—North school at 9 a. m.; South school at 1 p. m.

January 6—St. James school at 9 a. m.; St. Peter's school at 1:15 p. m.

Consumer info'

"What a clothing clinic can mean to your community" is the subject of an address at the Consumer Information meeting to be given Thursday, January 7, at 1:30 p. m. at the Arlington Heights field house.

The speaker is Miss Margaret Graham of Chicago. Miss Graham is former assistant to the dean of home economics department of Michigan State and is now associated with the speaker's bureau of the Consumer Information service. Mrs. Fred Utterback will be special soloist at the meeting.

Consumer Information service is a part of civilian defense and the agency used by the government to give important information to consumers. This has been carried out in Arlington Heights by means of meetings sponsored by consumer information service and civilian defense center located at the public library.

The local center plans an organization of consumer information wardens who will keep in touch with families in their vicinity and give them most recent consumer information from the government.

Elected to honorary naval fraternity

R. L. Busse, son of Wm. Busse, Jr., Mt. Prospect and R. H. Eich, son of Mrs. Lydia Eich, Stonegate, Arlington Heights, who are attending Northwestern University, were elected to the Sextant, honorary naval fraternity, by their classmates. Both are members of the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity.

From vacuum cleaner to a church pulpit

Arlington Heights friends of Elmer B. Sachs received greeting cards last week from Basett, California, where he is pastor of the Basettville Community church, 2766 Valley Boulevard. Rev. Sachs never did any loafing. Until he went west several years ago he was an Electrolux salesman, baseball manager and aspired to politics as a candidate for precinct committeeman.

The fighting front

Seldom has "With Uncle Sam" department of Paddock Publications carried more interesting stories of the local boys in the service of their country. Many of them are on the Africa fighting front.

Due to censorship, this paper is not able to publish some of the stories that have reached the editor's desk but there are many families of this territory who realize that their boys are probably in the thick of fighting.

Praise post office for Xmas mail

Several people have called the newspaper office praising the services of the Arlington post office during the holiday season, for the excellent manner in which they dispensed the holiday mail. Extra carriers were put on the routes to facilitate delivery, and moved the mail as rapidly as it cleared the office, where extra help had also been taken on for the season.

Early edition this week

This edition of Paddock's Publications went to press Tuesday noon and carries important announcements of New Year's events.

Theatre will observe first anniversary

Arlington theatre at Arlington Heights is celebrating its first anniversary by providing a free movie show, especially for children, Saturday morning. There will be a special children's program, including a western, a 3-stogie comedy and two cartoons.

The doors will open at nine o'clock. The show will start at 9:30.

"I know of no better way to celebrate our first anniversary than being host to the children of our patrons," stated Manager Knaap, Monday evening when he asked the Herald to extend the theatre's invitation to the children of the community.

"We are making no theatre announcement of this party. We have a large theatre and hope to have every seat occupied Saturday morning. It is in the nature of a holiday party to top off the good times that the boys and girls of Arlington Heights have had the past ten days. No ticket is required." For the benefit of mothers who may want to call for their children, the party will be over about eleven o'clock.

Manager Knaap states that the gas rationing has not made as much a difference in the attendance at the theatre as many might have supposed. Theatre lovers have saved their gas to attend their local theatre. In fact, there are many nights that there is hardly a "B" card in evidence in the theatre parking lot.

Food rationing has no terrors for Wisconsin pastor

Rev. H. A. Kossack, former pastor of Arlington Heights Presbyterian church, is spending a week with Arlington Heights friends, visiting the Alfred Jasper home. Food rationing has no terrors for him. He says that his parishioners at Crivitz, Wisconsin, follow the same custom of keeping their minister well supplied with things to eat.

The Herald understands that some of his Arlington Heights friends are serving him some big meals to prove that Arlington kitchens can meet anything that the Badgers people can supply.

Garage destroyed Christmas night

The garage of Fred W. Meier, South State road, near the Bradley farm, was destroyed by fire Christmas night. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Meier ten minutes after the departure of her husband for his work in Chicago. Arlington Heights fire department was called, but owing to lack of water could not save the building, especially so after 15 gallons of fuel oil stored in the place had exploded.

Mrs. Meier, in attempting to extinguish the fire, was burned about the face and an arm.

Arlington devoted a lot of time to war effort in 1942

Tin can salvage committee asks for suggestions

Geo. Poole and Geo. Schimming, who are in charge of the drive in Arlington Heights for the tin cans, are looking for suggestions. Last Saturday, as announced in last week's Herald, was collection day for the cans. The trucks started out at seven o'clock. They traveled 96 miles.

Following the receipt of a few phone calls from places that were missed by the collectors, Messrs. Schimming and Poole took an auto trip and discovered that in certain parts of the town not a home was missed. Places where cans were missed appeared to be in certain consolidated areas.

The men who did the collecting are employed by the village. They are paid up to 12 o'clock. All of the time they spent during the afternoon was donated. These men are glad to give that service. They say that they did not knowingly miss a house.

They make the suggestion that perhaps homes missed did not have the tin cans out in the street in time for the collectors.

That is why they want the suggestion of a better way to handle the cans.

They ask patience of the public. They hope that the cans not collected, have been picked up and saved until next time when they should be set out on the preceding evening.

Poole and Schimming await your suggestions.

Paul Carroll, Jr. gets his wings as 2nd lieutenant

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carroll received word this week that their son, Paul, Jr., received his wings as a navigator Saturday at Monterey, La., when he became a second lieutenant. He has left for the west coast. He entered the service nearly a year ago and has had no furlough since that time.

Ration dates to remember

Sugar stamp No. 10 expires Jan. 31.
Coffee stamp No. 27 expires Jan. 3.
Gas stamp No. 3 from a rationing books expire Jan. 21.
Fuel oil coupon No. 3, now valid, 10 per cent increase.

Arlington Heights "C" card holders

A list of auto owners residing in Arlington Heights district of Wheeling township to whom have been granted "C" cards appears on page four of second section of this issue. This publication is made at the direction of the OPA.

Wheeling woman will be 98 years old New Years Day

January 1, 1943, will be more than New Year's Day to Mrs. Magdalena Redinger of Wheeling. It will be the ninety-eighth anniversary of her birth. She was born in southern Lake county in 1845 and has spent her entire life in that vicinity. Mrs. Redinger was 16 years old when the Civil War broke out and was one of the oldest residents of Lake county to register under the permanent registration law on October 6.

She enjoys good health for a woman just two years short of the century mark and is able to care for herself.

When weather is fair she is able to attend Wheeling Presbyterian church regularly. She recalls the days when farmers cut grain with scythes and would go to the fields as early as 2 a. m. to bind the grain by hand while the dew was still on it.

The threshing was an all winter's job as it was done by flail. During her girlhood Indians were frequent callers at the homes of the settlers, asking for food. Deer was also plentiful and depended upon the haystacks for winter food.

Mrs. Redinger's husband, Christian, to whom she was married in 1865, died in 1917 during the first World War. She was the mother of six children, two of whom have

Arlington gave $989 to USO

The manner in which Arlington Heights went over the top last summer in the USO drive was brought to the attention of Mayor Goedke and members of Arlington Heights village board Monday evening, when chairman W. T. Loeber notified the board that the total given by Arlington Heights people through the local organization was $989.

The drive through the country started June 8. The results in the East and certain other parts of the United States were so discouraging that it was continued until Thanksgiving. In Arlington Heights the drive was completed by Sept. 14, through the work of the local committees and the generous response of the public.

Mrs. VanDusen was vice chairman and in charge of the local organization; Max Warson, treasurer and I. Mattes, secretary. Arlington Heights met its USO responsibility nearly three months ahead of the rest of the country.

Lutherans to have services Thursday eve

St. Peter Lutheran church of Arlington Heights, Rev. Harry C. Fricke, pastor, will recognize the close of the old year and the beginning of the new in divine worship. The New Year's Eve devotion is Thursday, 8 p. m. Mr. James Manz, a student of the Lutheran Theological Seminary at St. Louis, will preach the sermon.

Two services will mark the first day of 1943. German at 9:30 and English at 11 a. m. Pastor Fricke's sermon offers the timely subject: "Christ, Our Guiding Light in 1943." The choir will sing appropriate anthems. "The secret of a happy New Year is found in building spiritual foundations," the pastor observes. "In these days of upheaval, man must learn the lessons of his own helplessness and turn to Christ for spiritual strength and a solution of his pressing problems. The only other alternative is black despair."

Villages have 1943 vehicle tags on sale; state not ready

Just because you have not the opportunity to display your 1943 state license tag on your auto before New Year's, does not mean that your village 1943 tag can not be in its rightful place on your windshield.

The state, which is always hungry for those license fees, due to war priorities, has delivered no license plates. Local notary publics who issue state applications have forwarded the usual number to the office of the secretary of state, but "no soap."

Local municipal offices have their 1943 license tags ready for sale. Purchase before January 1 will permit a deduction from 1942 income tax.

'Our boys' answer 13 calls to army service

Home folks lend assistance on home front

A backward look into 1942 in the village of Arlington Heights, places the war effort first in the minds of its citizens, with most leading events aimed at assistance to the war effort. Thirteen calls from the Selective Service board were answered by men eligible for army service.

JANUARY
New Arlington Theatre opened on New Year's day, with its premiere benefit aiding the Red Cross by more than $700.00.

Red Cross Production Units of the village forge ahead with new units springing up all over town. Mrs. Paul Carroll in charge of this worthy effort.

Civilian Defense Council came into being, ready to serve the community in case of attack. Black out instructions were printed in the paper and air raid wardens were appointed for each block.

FEBRUARY
Civilian Defense set up headquarters in the village, leading northern Illinois in its advanced stage, and highly recommended by government advisor.

Public school children became war conscious, and made large purchases of war stamps and bonds. Elementary school board decided that plans for the addition to the South school, already voted on by the tax payers would have to be abandoned, due to priorities on materials and man power in the war effort.

First man power draft, with women in the village assisting in the registration.

MARCH
Issues of the Arlington Heights Herald carried useful information on the topic of the hour. Income tax, which included a much larger percentage of the population than heretofore.

Creamery Package Company had a narrow escape from large fire. Good work on part of local fire department aided in preventing severe damage.

Dogs get headlines when village fathers acted to have every canine in village tagged.

Local draft numbers posted in Haggenbush's store, and local paper carries first numbers.

Victory Book Campaign for Army Camps, sponsored locally by the Camp Fire Girls.

APRIL
Bike ordinance passed, arrange for the future tagging of 600 bicycles in town.

H. L. Haggenbush turned over 35 foot pleasure boat to U. S. Coast Guard of 8th Naval District headquarters at New Orleans.

Air raid sirens were tested in village and did not meet expectations.

Auxiliary air field for Civilian Air Corps was established at outskirts of village.

Draft registrations hit granddads.

MAY
Sugar rationing, which closed the public schools for three days, and kept hundreds of women and men busy signing up the population for their allotments.

War bond drive with a house to house canvass.

The Garden club presented illustrated lecture on Victory gardens to aid those planning to cultivate an unused lot for vegetables.

JUNE
Public schools preparing to close early.

A vacation bible school, a new project in the village, was held, sponsored by the Methodist, Presbyterian and St. John's churches.

The swimming pool opened, for one of its best seasons. 18-19 year olds register.

Recreation commission announced its summer program for the small fry.

Bike licenses sold and town hall is swarmed by youngsters.

Arlington Whirl, a Bundle for America benefit, is one of opening events at race track, which had big attendance in spite of transportation situation.

Wilson school Xmas program well attended

The Wilson school Christmas program was well attended Friday, December 18. The play given by school children received much applause and was enjoyed by all. Santa was the outstanding attraction of the little ones. He distributed candy, fruit and cookies to all the Hillside tots as well as school children.

The pledge of allegiance to the flag was given by all, after which the "National Anthem" was sung. After distribution of gifts the school children sang a number of Christmas Carols, followed by community singing by the entire group. The school was very attractively decorated by hand work of the children, and the lovely Christmas tree also bore hand made ornaments which was indeed noticeable.

Refreshments were served by the social committee of the Wilson P.T.A. of which Mrs. Voss is chairman. She wishes to thank all those who donated cakes and coffee for the benefit of the entertainment.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 27.

The Golden Text was, "If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; even the Spirit of truth" (John 14: 15-17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth; for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak; and he will show you things to come" (John 16: 12, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reappearing in all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God. Our Master said, 'But the Comforter, I shall teach you all things.' When the Science of Christianity appears, it will lead you into all truth" (p. 271).

Physicians widen Medical Horizon

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

The medical profession is in a war in which there never has been an armistice, nor any quarter given, the battle against disease.

Through the day and night these trained fighters carry on in many a strange battlefield — the laboratory, the jungle, undersea and in the air — or beside a sickbed in a home. They have built impregnable defenses against most of the disease hordes, but there always are new forces for them to face. Unceasing vigilance is a price they must pay, and life, health and happiness for others is a reward.

Just as you demand a good doctor to be sure that you go to a reputable trained pharmacist when you have his prescription filled.

Forecast for '43

and possibly clothing and shoes during 1943. Some of my associates think there will be rationing of meats, eggs and cheese, but present statistics do not indicate the necessity for this. Certainly, there will be no rationing of cereals, citrus products and fresh fruits that cannot be shipped.

What is most needed is the rationing of labor union leaders and a lengthening of the working week as the labor week now averages only 42.5 hours even after overtime payments. Of course, this is a hot potato that the Administration does not like to touch. I forecast, however, that 1943 will see a real step in this direction. The power of the War Labor Board will either be curbed or the Board will become much more conservative. Manpower (including women) will be allocated. Private recruiting of labor may be curtailed. Farmers, manufacturers and other employers may be obliged to go to the U. S. Employment Service when desiring additional help while employees may be subject to the same regulations when desiring to change jobs.

Politics

Certainly we are entering 1943 with a much better political situation than existed a year ago. This does not mean that the new Congressmen are conservative — some are more radical in certain ways than their predecessors — but they will combine with the conservative Southern Democrats on questions of taxation and war matters. Looking back over 1942, it becomes evident that the tax situation was the most upsetting feature on business and investments. The markets were at their worst directly after the Morgenthau recommendation of a 55 per cent normal tax. When the House voted a 45 per cent tax business began to pick up and even security prices had a real move when the Senate dropped the rate to 40 per cent.

Recent visits to Washington convince me that the Treasury has temporarily lost its influence with Congress and that the 1943 tax bill will be written by Congress itself and will be fairly conservative. I am much interested in reports that Honorable James Byrne, the new Economic Director, is to be put in charge. For the first time, it is reasonable to hope that a sales tax — perhaps under some other name — will be enacted in 1943. The farmers will continue to have as much influence in the 1943 Congress as heretofore, but the honeymoon of the labor and other blocs is temporarily at an end. 1943 will see very few wage raises and certain labor leaders will be put in the dog-house.

Money rates

There may be a slight increase in short-term money rates during 1943; but there will be little or no change in the rates that banks charge their customers. Money rates are now managed by the Government even more closely than the prices of commodities. The idea, however, that money rates will always continue low is just as foolish as were the forecasts of ten years ago that money would permanently remain on a high basis. The pendulum has always swung and it will continue to swing after World War II is over. Whether or not banks should borrow from the Federal Reserve in order to buy Government bonds will be debated during 1943. Banks that do this will temporarily make a profit, but whether this will work out as a profit or loss in the end is questionable. In the long run, very few banks, corporations or individuals make money by borrowing money.

The bonded debt of the Federal Government is now $90 billions, or an increase of $67 billions since the Roosevelt Administration came into power. By the end of 1943, this debt may stand at about $150 billions. Some of it, of course, will be raised by selling additional Victory Bonds to the public and institutions. The amount will largely depend upon whether or not compulsory saving is adopted. I forecast, however, that the major portion of this money must be raised from the banks and chiefly from the large banks. This, of course, means inflation sooner or later.

Farm crops

With normal weather conditions there is every reason to believe that more crops will be raised in this country in 1943 than in 1942 and that farmers should benefit accordingly. On the other hand, there always is the possibility of bad weather conditions including droughts and floods. The large amount of wheat, corn and other grains in storage, however, should help offset any crop failure in 1943.

The wheat yield for 1942 will be about one billion bushels, second only to the crop of 1915, while the corn crop for 1942 will break all records, amounting to about 3,400,000,000 bushels. The cotton crop for 1942 amounts to only 13,250,000 bales, but this is perfectly satisfactory considering the large amount of cotton in storage. Without doubt, the theory of "winning the peace with food" is sound. Farmers have a legitimate reason for expecting good treatment during the remainder of the War. After the War, their celebration will be over.

Production

Readers will remember that our war production will not reach its height until well into 1943. The plants manufacturing big bombers are not yet completed, shipbuilding is just getting into its stride and thousands of factories are still re-tooling. 1943, however, should witness a transition from construction to a drastic reshuffle of sub-contractors, of labor and of communities in general. This means hardships for management and for the men and women workers. Some communities now doing well will become ghost towns; while other sleeping cities will become busy beehives.

Taking all in all, industrial production should climb into new ground during 1943, averaging about 210% of the 1935-39 level. This would leave only about $70 billions for domestic consumer goods, compared with about $78 billions in 1942. This means that only about 10% of the output of the durable goods industry and 60% of the output of the non-durable goods industry will be available for civilian use in 1943. This estimate is on a per unit basis with no allowance for price inflation.

Failures

Business failures in 1942 amounted to $105 millions and I fear these will be increased during 1943. If so, it will be due to manufacturers being unable to secure necessary raw materials or substitutes and merchants being unable to get a supply of goods. In addition to the normal casualties and those additional ones due to the War, I expect a certain "birth-control movement" in business. The Government may require new businesses, farmers desiring to increase acreage and especially employers desiring to increase their sales forces to get permits. Sales organizations would be the first to be treated to "birth control." We may also expect to see in 1943 experiments in "zoned markets" by limiting the distance that goods can be shipped.

The paid leaders of the farm groups are fighting ceiling prices on farm products, but I believe the farmers would be willing to have a ceiling provided they could also be assured a floor. I am certain that farmers are more reasonable and far more patriotic than the lobbyists in Washington who pretend to represent them. There will be no decline in purchasing power. Men, and especially women, in the farming and munitions districts, will have more money even after the payment of taxes than they have ever had before. The delivery of goods should be easier in 1943 than in 1942 due to an improved tire and gasoline situation.

War outlook

It must be realized that a great improvement in the resources of the Axis powers has taken place during 1942. Where they were short of raw materials they now — with the exception of a very few commodities — have a surplus supply. For instance, in 1939 the Axis powers had no rubber and today they have 90% of the world's supply; in 1925 they had only 25% of the bauxite, 7% of the iron ore, 9% of the tin ore, 10% of the manganese ore, 8% of the lead ore and 6% of the world's flax. Today the Axis powers have 66% of the bauxite, 44% of the iron ore, 73% of the tin, 35% of the manganese, 21% of the lead, 35% of the flax and a large percentage of the world's oil. These figures show that time is not necessarily on our side. The success of the United Nations depends more on making every sacrifice.

The best opinions are that Germany will be brought to her knees, probably through the lack of oil, in late 1943 or early in 1944 and that it will take another year to finish Japan. As Germany does not want to see Japan a world power, she may endeavor to join the United Nations in putting Japan back where she was forty years ago. This would mean not only cleaning the Japanese out of China, the Philippines and the Dutch East Indies, but also making them give up Manchukuo, Korea and Formosa. Of course, the present actions of our Navy in the Pacific are merely to keep the Japanese from pouncing on Russia at Vladivostok. They are no part of the coming campaign to clean up Japan. All of this means that the general war news during 1943 will be better than that of 1942.

Conclusion

It is probable that 1943 will witness further cuts in civilian business, that victory models and standardization will be compulsory, that manpower will be rationed as well as commodities, that a sales tax will be inaugurated, that subsidies will be extended, and that inflation like a great glacier, will continue slowly to push up prices; but what of it? We grow by striving, — not by arriving. Character gains during 1943 will by far offset all losses and inconveniences. This Global War will be a great blessing to all the world by bringing about that spiritual awakening which is the only solution to our troubles.

Four Homes, Four Bombers
Four average homes could be heated for a year with fuel oil from a tank car, but four heavy bombers would stay aloft less than 11 hours using the same amount of gasoline.

Rest Home Notes

Christmas was a lovely as well as busy season at the Home, which was filled near to capacity, and with many interested friends and relatives of patients and management coming and going.

Christmas always brings groups of young people who gladden the hearts of the folks in the Home with the loved Christmas Carols. Sunday evening before Christmas Rev. and Mrs. Kampenkel and a group of their young people from St. John's Church and later in the evening another group of young people from the Methodist Church came into the Home and sang Carols. On Wednesday evening a fine group of Girl Scouts, known as the North Side Girl Scouts, together with their leader, Mrs. Walton, and also accompanied by Mesdames Atkinson and Gregg, came into the Home and delighted the folks with a number of Christmas Carols. One of the patients was heard saying "Oh, what would this world be if Christ had not come."

The following from the Home spent Christmas at their homes: Mrs. Patrick Fahey of Chicago, who plans to remain at her home for the present, and Miss Carrie Haggarty of Chicago, is spending a few days with her sisters and friends. She is expected to return after the holidays.

Mr. William Rapp of Chicago visited his uncle, Mr. Henry Rapp, in the Home on Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson I. Bullis and Mr. C. G. Bullis, all of Woodstock, Illinois, visited their mother, Mrs. Josephine Bullis, at the Home Christmas. In the evening Mrs. Bullis' granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Colby, of Crystal Lake, visited at the Home.

Mr. W. G. Buse of W. Wing Street is now making his home at the Rest Home and the Management are glad to have him with them. Mr. Buse's daughter, Charlotte, is almost a daily visitor of her father. A number of friends have called on Mr. Buse.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dunn had planned to spend Christmas Day at her home with her children and grandchildren, but owing to the inclement weather remained at the Home and all of the family visited her during the afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Emma Oldenburg was made happy by visits from her daughter and grandson, Mrs. Amanda Kraegel and son Elmer, of Itasca and her son, Mr. P. Oldenburg, and his two daughters, of Des Plaines. Mr. Oldenburg took his mother to his home Sunday afternoon to enjoy their tree and Christmas goodies with the family.

The Home welcomes Mrs. Amelia Moehling of Mt Prospect, who has recently had a fall in her home. She is recovering nicely and it is hoped she will soon be able to be about.

Mrs. Hansen's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Shirley and daughters, Mrs. Eudore Gillock and Miss Mary Jane Shirley, Mrs. Mary A. Johnson and Richard and Janet Gillock, all of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Shirley and family, of Arlington Heights, had dinner at the Home Saturday night. Mrs. Bond, mother of Mrs. Charles C. Shirley, also joined the party. The occasion of this dinner was Mr. Shirley's birthday. Each year these folks have had a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hansen on December 26th.

Mrs. W. V. Montgomery, mother of Mrs. George Schneberger, of Arlington Heights, has been in the Home for the past three weeks. The management have enjoyed caring for her. Mrs. Montgomery has been faithfully remembered by her relatives and friends during her stay in the Home. Mr. and Mrs. Schneberger and their family have been frequent visitors at the Home. Mrs. Montgomery's other daughter, Mrs. Frank Callaghan, of Oak Park, has also been with her mother much of the time. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Callaghan and Mr. Callaghan's mother called.

Contributors to Christmas fund

The Christmas basket committee with the assistance of many "Good Fellows" in Arlington Heights did their best to see that every family in need in the village had a merry Christmas. Baskets of food were filled and taken to many homes in need, on Wednesday before the holiday, and the committee wishes to thank all who assisted in this project.

Flentie recalls indictment of Touhy

The capture Tuesday morning of Roger Touhy and the death of Walter Henrichson the preceding day, reminds J. D. Flentie of the time he was a member of the grand jury which heard the confession of Henrichson, who had turned state evidence against Touhy prior to the latter's trial which resulted in his sentence to state prison.

Bundles unit keeps working

The press of personal affairs at Christmas time couldn't stop some of the activities of members of the Arlington unit of Bundles for America. Mrs. Robert Palmer, Chairman of Indian affairs, for the Woman's club, never rested a minute in her drive to collect dollars for comfort kits for American Indian boys in the service. To date she has turned in over $100. Mrs. Burton K. Noyes, 214 West Fremont street, was the first to make a contribution to Mrs. Palmer.

Russell R. Cora, an Indian in the U. S. navy stationed at Great Lakes, had received his sailing orders. He didn't have leave to get into the city to get some things he needed. He called his wife, at the U. S. Indian Affairs department in the Merchandise Mart, who in turn called the Bundles for America. A comfort kit with a card from Mrs. Noyes was delivered to her along with a turtle neck sweater knitted by Mrs. Palmer and a helmet knitted by Mrs. Carleton Smith of Prospect Heights. Mr. Robert Palmer was the one who took these items to Mrs. De Cora so that she could take them to her husband. Quota is Made

Two-hundred-fifty children greet Santa Claus at party

John Little
now stationed in California

(Each week the Herald brings you news of one of the men from Prospect Heights who is in service.)

John (Ken to his family) has just graduated from a course in airplane mechanics at Sheppard Field, Texas, and has been transferred to the west coast for a month's first hand experience in the line in a bomber factory.

John enlisted in the air corps last July and has been at Sheppard Field since that time until this recent transfer. He was 20 the last of November and received many birthday cards from friends in Prospect Heights. A though he would have liked to have thanked each of these personally he has been so busy he has been unable to do so and takes this opportunity through the Herald to extend his thanks instead.

Before he entered the army he had attended Maine township school and later graduated from Arlington High. He studied chemical engineering at Armour's Institute, also known as the Illinois Institute of Technology.

After the war he intends to follow up aviation work from an engineering standpoint.

Meanwhile he is very enthusiastic about his work and army life. While he is in Santa Monica he is stationed at a hotel which overlooks the ocean. He reports the food is good and says he likes the new routine because there is no drill. Blackouts every night are a regular thing there, he writes.

His new address is Class 11-43, N. O. L. B., Grand Hotel, 1725 Ocean Front, Santa Monica, Calif.

Many more names added to Xmas tree ornaments

Many more residents in Prospect Heights bought war bonds or stamps in the amount which entitled them to have a Christmas tree ornament with their name engraved thereon this week. The white star at the top of the tree on Christmas Eve had Mrs. Ed Miller's name on it.

Additional names which were hung on the tree include: Margaret Warwick, Karen Ruebhausen, Vincent Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reinsma, Mrs. Charles Kule, Mrs. Elmer Wickersham, Mr. and Mrs. E. Miller, Pearl Miller, Dicy Diene, Jack Westermann.

The Prospector's Gleanings

Priorities as yet mean nothing to the children judging from the things they asked for from Santa Claus. . . Santa tried his best to be diplomatic but one young miss insisted he bring her a new bicycle anyway. . . Even the grownups gave their requests. . . one local lady told him she'd like a mink coat. . .

ZuZu, the clown, who did some fancy tricks on a horizontal pole to the delight of the children, really used to be a professional clown. . . Lieutenant Walter Jollie was on the air the other night broadcasting holiday greetings from England to his parents here over one of those holiday programs. . . Mrs. Ruth Portman heard him and conveyed the exciting news to the Jollies who were so disappointed because they didn't happen to be listening in. . .

Tony and Betty Koske returned Sunday night from Florida where they saw a large convoy surrounded by protective blimps. . . They report that the former gay spots in Florida go to bed at 11:30 now and are so blacked-out you'd scarcely know they existed. . .

A local girl was last heard from the latter part of November. . . He is again on a ship "somewhere in the Pacific" . . .

Vivian Dudley, daughter of the James Dudleys, was home for the holidays. . . She is really in defense work being a machinist's helper in the ship yards of that miracle man, Henry J. Kaiser. . . Vivian, trained as a beauty operator, went out to the west coast with the idea of continuing her work. . . While she was taking a course required for her license there she took a temporary job in the ship yards and liked it so much that she's staying on. . . She has a little portable tool room on the outfitting dock over which she has charge. . . The shipyards are turning out a ship every four and one half days. . .

A local girl was taking her examinations Monday prior to entering the WAACS. . . "Christmas treeing" is the news this week in Prospect Heights. . . One lady starts it by visiting a friend's house and looking over her gifts. . . then the two of them go on together to another friend's. . . and so on 'till there is quite a crowd. . . At each home they are given something to eat or drink. . . The strong wind tripped the community tree over Sunday afternoon. . . and it was a very nice one, too. . .

Rain washed away the snow in Prospect Heights and, when Mrs.

Roy Hartke looked out her window Sunday she saw a mass of giant pansies in full bloom. . . They had no cover but had been protected by the heavy snowfall. . .

Marvin Larson will move his insurance office from the present location to 1 Elmhurst rd. the first of the year. . . Heating equipment has been found for the show room in the service station, and this will be used for Red Cross work. . .

The editor and her husband were very unhappy Christmas Eve when thieves broke into a friend's car parked near the Hotel Seneca and took two bags filled with Christmas gifts and clothing. . .

There is no menu this week to give everyone a chance to use all that left over turkey. . .

Jack Patzold was the only one from Prospect Heights apparently who was injured in that collision of trains last week near the Chicago Northwestern station. . . He had just gotten into the aisle and suddenly found himself on the floor with everyone on top of him. . . Outside of a bad bruise and a limp he's all right now. . .

Prospect Heights' Christmas party was a great success according to two hundred and fifty children who gathered last Wednesday evening around the community tree and greeted Santa Claus. Each received the kind of gift they really wanted, candy canes and lollipops, and each had an opportunity to give Santa the lowdown on what was wanted for Christmas, an opportunity of which most children took advantage.

Around twenty dozen presents were distributed by Santa and a corps of helpers from the P. T. A., which supervised the party at the request of the Merchants Association. Some children were unable to meet Santa in person and have been picking up the gifts he left for them at the local hardware store. All those gifts which are not claimed by New Year's will be taken to a nearby orphanage for those children to enjoy.

The gifts were made possible by the Prospect Heights Merchants Association which also provided the community tree and which was responsible for the appearance of Santa Claus.

Mrs. Robert House, chairman of the party, wishes to thank those who helped make it a success. Special thanks go to the Merchants who sponsored the party; Mr. Marvin Larson, special representative of Santa Claus; Mr. Ed. Blume who drove his bobbed and gave many exciting rides around the Field for the children; Mr. Robert Rankine for the sound effects; Mr. Ted Klappe for his clown act; all of the men who helped put up the equipment; and the P.T.A. committee with Mrs. Wallace Nessen, Mrs. Rex Dallstream, Mrs. Mabel Fowler, and Mrs. David Williams, which purchased and wrapped the presents.

FOR LADIES ONLY!

The men of Prospect Heights are doing their share in the battle to win the war either in the fighting front or in long, tense hours on the production front. But, ladies, are you doing your share?

This is the week during which tradition finds us making New Year's resolutions. Wouldn't this be a good time to take stock of the actual help that you personally are making in winning this war? Here is a suggested quiz to give yourself before you make those resolutions, so that there will be no doubt in your own mind that you are honestly making every effort to do your share. If you have a low score, the new year is a good time to start doing something about it.

Ask yourself:
1. Am I buying war bonds and stamps?
2. Am I saving kitchen fats?
3. Am I saving tin cans?
4. Am I knitting for the service men?
5. Am I rolling bandages for the front?
6. Am I sewing for the service men?
7. Am I doing anything in the way of aiding the service canteens?

Mussolini!

He is premier of Italy by appointment of King Victor Emmanuel III. But the appointment was made only at the culmination of a bloodless revolution, when Mussolini's Fascists marched upon Rome in October, 1922, and compelled the resignation of the cabinet then in power. The Fascists, though loyal to the throne, were in a position to have overthrown it also if their demands for control of the government had not been granted. The Fascists were organized by Mussolini in 1919 as a militant political party.

Roosevelt's Paternal Ancestors

Claes Martensen (van Rosevelt) Roosevelt; Nicholas Roosevelt (1638-1715), who married Heyltje Jans Kunst; Jacobus Roosevelt (1692-1776), who married Catherine Harben Crook; Isaac Rosevelt (1726-1794), who married Cornelia Hoffman; James Roosevelt (1760-1847), who married Maria Walton; Isaac Roosevelt (1790-1863), who married Mary R. Aspinwall; James Roosevelt (1828-1900), who married Sara Delano, and who was the father of the President.

Scouts top $2500 in war bonds' stamps

A Court of Honor at which the Prospect Heights Boy Scouts will receive new rankings and merit badges will be held in conjunction with the Lions club meeting Wednesday, January 13, at Simson's. The ceremonies will begin at 8:00 and all parents and friends of the boys are invited to attend.

Those boys who will become first class scouts are: James Dean, Harry Daniels, Peter Rodgers, Douglas Dean, and William Miller. Charles Schiller and Joseph Knollmueller will become second class scouts, and James Borough will become a tenderfoot.

First aid merit badges will be awarded to James Campbell, James Dean, Harry Daniels, Peter Rodgers, Douglas Dean and William Miller.

Medals will also be given to those three scouts who have sold the most bonds and stamps during the current drive. The Scouts are way over their $1,000 quota with $2,500 of stamps and bonds already sold, and the boys are working harder than ever to increase this amount.

During the past week Douglas Dean, James Olson and Peter Rodgers established a stamp booth at the hardware store and will continue making sales there until the sixth.

The Scouts wish to express their appreciation for the remarkable community cooperation which they have received.

Merchants and wives to party
New Year's Eve

All members of the Prospect Heights Merchants Association and their wives are planning to attend the New Year's eve party in the tea room. On that evening Dr. John Fortier will become the chairman for the association for the coming year and the present chairman, Arnold Allord, will automatically become the new secretary.

A baked ham dinner will be served to the members and a program, provided by a committee of Mrs. Royal Fitch, chairman, Mrs. Hugh Galbraith and Mrs. Gerald Colley, will constitute the entertainment.

An hour and a half of war pictures including the battles of Wake Island and the overturning of the Normandie will be shown.

Greetings to you

Thanks, friends, for your kind patronage during the past year. We look hopefully forward to greater service to all of you in 1943.

Arlington residents greet Santa in many celebrations

As the paper goes to press, the village folk of Arlington Heights are still in that state of lethargy which follows a three day holiday such as Christmas, and still have facing them New Year's eve to celebrate, and New Year's day to welcome with its guests and well wishers. College youth are still home for the holidays, and the fall fry are under foot, with their plans and prattle, all a welcome part of the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Day motored to Milwaukee on Christmas day to spend the holiday with Mrs. H. Boll, mother of Mrs. Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Farra entertained a group of friends at a cocktail party from five until seven on Sunday evening, when many friends from the village and the surrounding communities were their guests, in their home on Beverly Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Forrest and children were Christmas day guests at the home of Mrs. Forrest's mother Mrs. Robert Dryan of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Gregg held open house for their friends on Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Parker were guests of Mrs. F. W. Gillette of Chicago on Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Atkinson and family motored to DeKalb, Ill. on Thursday to spend the three day holiday with Rev. and Mrs. Allan Billman and daughter Betty.

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Kennedy held open house on Sunday afternoon and evening in honor of Mrs. George Pope and Miss Marian Pope, of Minneapolis, mother and sister of Mrs. Kennedy, who were house guests of the Kennedys for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hannigan had as dinner guests on Christmas eve, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. McKee of Chicago, Mr. K. B. Hannigan and Miss Ellen Hannigan of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morris of Evanston, Mrs. Mary Schubert of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoyt and son George of Chicago, and Miss Dorothy Schubert of Washington D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Crittendon were other villagers to hold open house for their friends on Sunday evening, in their home on North Mitchell Ave.

Dr. and Mrs. B. T. Best spent Christmas day in the home of their son John and his family in Milwaukee, Wis. Richard Best of New York City who has been visiting his parents for the past few days, also was a guest in the home of his brother and family. He left Sunday evening for New York City, where he will report for active duty in the services of his country, on Dec. 28th, following his recent enlistment. He will enter officers training camp as soon as he is assigned a location.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Utterback were hosts to the Baxter family gathering on Christmas day, and the group gathered at the home of the Guy Baxters on Sunday. Mrs. Otis Baxter of Pasadena, California, has been a house guest of the B. G. Baxters for several days during the holidays.

Jean Daniels is spending her holidays from her teaching position in Cordova, Ill. with her parents in the Milton Daniels.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Johnson of South Duron, were hosts to their bride club for dessert and cards on Saturday evening.

Wallace Shuett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shuett is stationed at Camp Lowry, Denver, Colorado, and likes his work very much.

Mr. Frank Peterson, of Des Plaines, who formerly resided in Arlington Heights, passed away on Tuesday, Dec. 22nd in the Elmhurst hospital, following a stroke of apoplexy. He has a daughter, Mrs. Fures, living in Mt. Prospect, and made his home with another daughter in Des Plaines. He is also survived by an invalid wife.

Bob O'Hagan a pre-junior in the school of Engineering at Marquette University at Milwaukee is enjoying his holiday vacation at home with his parents. The family group spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. A. Fritz at Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heiss and daughters returned to the village on Sunday evening, from Milwaukee where they spent the three day holiday with the family of Mrs. Heiss, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mellow.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Laurin entertained Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schneberger, of Atlanta, Ga. and Mr. and Mrs. Runge and family of Chicago at dinner on Christmas eve in honor of the 16th birthday of their son Neil. Mr. and Mrs. George Schneberger were also guests in the Laurin home on Christmas eve. Mrs. Robert Schneberger, the former Shirley Laurin left by plane for her home in Atlanta on Monday morning.

James Manz, who is in his senior year at Concordia Seminary at St. Louis, Mo. is home for the Christmas holidays. He will return to school early next week.

After that war, Luxembourg established an economic union with Belgium, adopting Belgian currency. By choice of the people at the polls it continued to be the last of Europe's grand duchies, in compliance to the popular head of state, the Grand Duchess Charlotte. It needed no navy and no more of an army than required for home policing. Democratic Luxembourg was primarily an idyllic tourist wonderland of small farms, large vineyards, and low taxes.

Elvira Mueller weds Sgt. Norman Weineke

Miss Elvira Mueller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Mueller of Arlington Heights became the bride of Sgt. Norman Weineke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weineke of Logansville, Wisconsin, at 3:30 P. M. on Christmas day, in the St. Peter's Lutheran church of Arlington Heights, Rev. Frick officiating.

The bride wore for her wedding a gown of white satin, fashioned along princess lines with a train, and her veil of net was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a white bible and white roses.

Miss Florence Honemann served as bridesmaid and her maid of honor was her sister Miss Marjory Mueller. The attendants were gowned alike in white taffeta, fashioned with full bouffant skirts, off the shoulder bodices finished with net yokes. They carried red, white and blue carnations and wore in their hair red and white and blue and white streamers to augment the patriotic arrangement for the wedding, where six Christmas trees at the altar decorated in red, white and blue lights, arranged in the form of a V Candelabra in patriotic colors also added to the arrangement.

Armin Weineke, of Logansville, Wis., a brother of the groom served as best man, and Leonard Cuttore of Chicago served as usher.

Miss Ruth Karstens sang prior to the wedding ceremony.

Mrs. Mueller wore for her daughter's wedding a dress of blue crepe and the mother of the groom was gowned in black velvet. A wedding dinner was served to the bridal party and immediate families at the home of the bride following the ceremony, and open house was held for their friends during the evening, in the Mueller home on South Vail, where red, white and blue decorations and white bells carried out the patriotic color scheme.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school, and has been employed at Benjamin Electric. The groom is stationed at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, and prior to entering the service was employed in Chicago.

The young couple are spending their honeymoon in Wisconsin, after which Sgt. Weineke will return to camp, and his bride will make her home with her parents for the duration.

Guests from a distance were Mr. Albert Weineke of Logansville, Wis. and Armin Weineke also of Logansville, Wis.

Mrs. Wisersky and Mrs. Peroutka went to Hines Hospital on December 23rd to help with Christmas preparations.

George Palmer
(Plumber)

wishes to thank his many friends and customers for their patronage the past year.

Palatine nurse succumbs

Mrs. Edward Bucher, assistant superintendent of the Palatine Community hospital, died Monday night. Her death came as a great shock to her many friends who had been so encouraged by her apparent improvement. Mrs. Bucher took most of her training in Chicago, but graduated from the Palatine hospital after transferring her credits here. She has been a source of inspiration to those who came in contact with her and her cheerfulness carried her through the suffering of her own illness. Her particular charge was the nursery of the hospital and each new baby received her special attention. Her place will be hard to fill.

Deceased was born in Chicago and was married to Edward Bucher in September, 1917. Only last fall a reception honored their 25th wedding anniversary. Besides her husband she leaves two sons, Alvin of Morton Grove and Norman of Wheeling, together with their wives and one grandson, her father, John Wick of Wheeling, a sister, Mrs. Beth Sherman of Palatine, two brothers, George of Highland Park and Allen of Barrington, with their families.

Mrs. Bucher was a member of the Wheeling "500" club and the Palatine hospital Auxiliary. She was to have been initiated into the Rebecca Lodge this Thursday night.

Mrs. Bucher was suddenly stricken about two weeks ago and was removed to the hospital from her home in Cary on Sunday. Since that time her condition has remained critical but a slight improvement has kept hope alive for her many friends.

The body will be on view at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sherman, at 310 Wilson st., Palatine and funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian church in Wheeling Thursday at 2 p. m., with interment at the Deerfield cemetery where her mother is also lying at rest.

Henry Heidemann

Mr. Henry F. Heidemann of 1427 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, passed away Tuesday morning, December 22, at the age of 50 years, 7 months and 9 days. Mr. Heidemann was born May 13, 1892, in Arlington Heights, and as a young man was united in marriage to Miss Jessie Kuecker. This couple have always made their home in Arlington Heights.

Deceased leaves to mourn his early departure, his loving wife, Jessie, and seven children, John, Mrs. Marie Cooper, Henry, Jr., Carl, Caroline, Fred, Arthur; one son-in-law, Mr. Frank Cooper; one sister, Mrs. Caroline Marselle of Arlington Heights.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. at Karstens Funeral Home, Arlington Heights. Interment, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Harry J. Kelly

Mrs. Harry J. Kelly of Palatine succumbed Saturday after a brief illness at the Palatine hospital. A heart ailment is held as the cause of her death.

Mrs. Kelly was born in Chicago July 22, 1882, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fallon. She was married in 1900 to Mr. Kelly, also a Chicago resident. Two children were born, Lillian and Eugene, the family moving to Palatine in 1924. Services were held Tuesday morning at St. Theresa church, Palatine, with burial at Mt. Olivet cemetery, Chicago. Father Murray officiated.

Mrs. Kelly is survived by her husband, Harry, son, Lt. Eugene, daughter, Lillian Gossley of Chicago, and sister, Jennie, of Chicago.

Carl Flentge

Funeral services for Carl Flentge, retired Barrington township farmer who died Friday at his home in Des Plaines, were conducted at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon in the Wolff funeral home, Elgin. Rites were held from Immanuel Evangelical church in Hanover township at 3:30, with burial in the church cemetery.

Palatine Lutheran church to dedicate service flag

A new and beautiful Service Flag will be dedicated in a special service in Immanuel Lutheran Church, Palatine, on New Year's Eve. The dedicatory communion service will begin at 7:30 p. m.

The flag is of special design with a large red cross on a field of white, bordered in red. Thirty-two blue stars encircle the cross on which is superimposed a gold star representing our brother in Christ, Jack Thompson, who fell in line of duty. The red symbolizes courage and valor; the white, purity and uprightness; the blue, truth and loyalty.

At least some of the thirty-two boys who are scattered to such distant points as Iceland, Alaska, London, Africa, and Hawaii, and all of their families, hope to take part in the dedication ceremonies. The public is invited.

In dedicating this banner, the members of Immanuel declare that though thousands of miles separate them from their men in the armed forces, they are members of one body, bound by the tie of Christian love and fellowship.

Folks who have no church home, are invited to attend these services and affiliate with the church.

Men from the church represented by the flag are:

Merle E. Hartman, E. L. Withaeger, Ralph Wiehrdt, Martin M. Plate, Herbert Freise, Louis Giesecke, Arthur J. Nagatz, Robert K. Berndt, Ray Engelking, Otto Schwanz, Walter F. Larsen, Edwin F. Wiehrdt.

Clarence J. Schroeder, Lowell G. Haemker, Clifford Haemker, John Reese, Wilbert Withaeger, Leonard Kreft, Donald Kiehl, Wm. H. Schinkowsky, Arthur W. Lemke, G. D. Sigler, Norman Schering.

Arthur H. Harz, Kermit J. Hinz, Wm. Bretsnyder, Elmer J. Heide, Geo. L. Hinrichs, Frank Benjamin Schmidt, Henry C. Henning, Kenneth C. Behnke, Edward Weide.

Guest speaker for the afternoon will be Mr. Paul J. Findler, senior extension economist from the Economic Section of the United States Department of Agriculture from Washington D. C. He will speak to the growers on "vegetables most essential to victory."

Mr. Findler is an eloquent speaker and his message is of vital importance to all growers especially at this time when raising food is such a vital problem.

Prospect Heights driver hurt in collision

James Carroll, 101 Kenilworth Avenue, Prospect Heights had his kneecap slightly injured and his car badly damaged last Wednesday evening when his car skidded into an automobile which made a sudden stop in the middle of Road Road near Central and Golf roads.

Mr. Carroll was on his way home from work at the Buick plant when the accident occurred. Because of the ice his car skidded into the back of the parked car when he attempted to stop. Both the wheels and one side of Mr. Carroll's car were damaged, and the whole back end of the other car was pushed in, damaging a Christmas tree and numerous Christmas gifts of the occupants who were on their way to spend Christmas in the country.

Mr. Carroll had his car repaired and is able to use it for business again.

17 QUESTIONS

How Many Can YOU ANSWER?

The "Where and Why" of A Safe Deposit Box

- Where are your War Savings Bonds? They must be kept safely for ten years for full maturity value.
- Where are your stocks and bonds? It is an expense and takes considerable time to replace lost stock certificates. Lost bearer bonds can be cashed by the finder.
- Where are your Insurance Policies? Can you produce them on sudden notice? Are they available for periodic checking?
- Where is the Deed to your home? When needed it is all important.
- Where is that Note or Mortgage? Could you produce other evidence of the debt?
- Where is your Will? It should have safety and privacy.
- Where are your Birth Certificate, Marriage Certificate or Naturalization Papers? Can you produce them immediately?
- Where are your valuable Contracts and Business Papers? It is easy to mislay them permanently.
- Where are your Tax and other Receipts? Do you have proof of payment?
- Where is your Social Security Card? It is easy to lose if carried on your person or kept at home.
- Where are your Army, Navy or Marine Service Discharge Papers? Do not chance losing these as they may take considerable time and expense for replacement.
- Where are your Leases? Your copy must be safely kept for your protection.
- Where are your Legal Papers? They are costly to draw up and should be carefully guarded.
- Where is your Pension Certificate? If lost, figure the time and expense to secure a duplicate.
- Where is your Valuable Jewelry? Is it adequately protected?
- Where are the valuable Stamps in your collection? You know their value. Are you safeguarding them?
- Where are those personal Articles of sentimental value? They could never be replaced. Do not chance their loss.

Realize NOW the value of a Safe Deposit Box. Do not put off renting one any longer. If you have one do not terminate its use. A Safe Deposit Box offers peace of mind and absolute protection at low cost.

Africa

Received this week is a letter from Cpl. Albert Duenn of Arlington Heights, who is stationed in North Africa.

"Dear Staff:
"This letter is going to be rather short, but I hope it proves a little interesting. I can't tell you anything about what's going on out here, but I can tell you that I am learning a lot at the expense of the army."

"First thing I learned out here was the value of money. I used to hold out my hand and let the natives take what they wanted. Now they hold out their hand and I give them what the article is worth."

"The French people treat us fine and every place we go they are glad to see us. The Arabs are really great horsemen. The Moroccans live in little bamboo huts shaped like a tepee. They have no furniture and sleep on the ground. They build small fires in the center of their huts and the smoke goes out of any little opening."

"The French and American soldiers trade cigarettes once in awhile. They really go for our smokes and I can see why they do. "Well, friends, I am going to close for now, hoping you all had a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. I can't wait until I get the paper out here. I don't think any news could be better than the home town news and the Herald has that."

Truly yours,
Cpl. Albert E. Duenn 36003997
Cannon Co. 30th Inf. HPO3
c/o Postmaster, New York
N. Y.

Corp. Edward Mann, who made his home with H. L. Moehling, Palatine, is probably in the thick of the fighting in western Africa, according to a letter received December 24, by Mr. Moehling. Edward was in the original landing American party in French Morocco. The letter written November 24, was passed by the censor and does not give many of the details, but he evidently did his part in clearing out the snipers. After reading his reference to the treatment the Germans give the natives, it is easily understood why the Americans have been so joyously received by them. The letter reads in part as follows:

"Dear Hank—I am now in French Morocco. The climate is hot in the day time and cold at night. We had good weather all the way over here. I was not sick once I was in the landing and attacking force. We landed in tank lighters and they sure bobbed around in the water. We got ashore alright, but some of them didn't."

"We landed on the beach at Fadohia, which is only a short distance from here. We cleaned out the town of snipers and then we unloaded the ships. I believe that was the hardest work I ever did. We later moved here, Casa Blanca. "The Germans are very dirty fighters and they treated the French very badly, starving them and the natives, who are Arabs."

"I recently sent you a letter that I now know is on the bottom of the ocean. This harbor is full of sinking ships.
His address is Corp. Edward Mann, APO 3603775, Co. E, 20th Eng., APO Postmaster, N. Y.
Accompanying the letter were a number of pictures showing streets in Casa Blanca. Edward was an orphan, coming to the Moehling farm eleven years ago. He was inducted in August, 1941, and last visited Palatine in June."

Puerto Rico

John E. Maloney, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Maloney, of 604 South Duntun st., Arlington Heights, has been promoted to the rank of photographer's mate third class at San Juan, Puerto Rico, the Navy announced. A former employee of the E. W. A. Rowles Co., in Arlington Heights, Maloney joined the Navy in December of 1941. He wants to stay in long enough to get around and see the world a little but does not intend to make a permanent career of it. Like so many Navy photographers his hobby is photography as well as his job.

Maloney's recent promotion followed completion of a Navy training course for photographer's mates.

Idaho

From now on, Edward Louis Weide, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Weide, 237 West Chicago ave., Palatine, will be a Bluejacket in the U. S. Navy. He reported at Arragut, Idaho, this week as a Naval recruit and will be taught the fundamentals of seamanship at the U. S. Naval training station located here on the shores of Lake Pend Oreille, one of the largest fresh water lakes in the country.

After several weeks of training, during which he will learn to conduct himself in the traditional style of a man-of-war's man, he will be graduated and proceed to either a Navy service school, where he will be instructed in a specialized field, or join the U. S. fleet at sea.

Chanute

Pvt. Marshall Baling of Wheeling, came home for the week-end on a 72-hour leave from his duties at Chanute Field.

Pvt. Stan Beckman of Palatine is now stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, studying army finance.

Great Lakes

Two Arlington Heights men reported to the U. S. Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, last week to begin their basic training to prepare them for duty aboard one of Uncle Sam's fighting warships.

The new Bluejackets will receive careful instruction in a training program designed to toughen them physically, and acquaint them with the fundamentals of seamanship, and naval procedure. They will take a series of aptitude tests which will serve as a guide in the type of work for which they are best qualified.

Upon completing recruit training they will be granted a nine-day leave, at which time they probably will be home.

The new Arlington Heights recruits are: Melvin Edward Harting, 18, son of Mr. Albert Harting, 209 N. Pine ave., and Donald Martin Kempf, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kempf.

California

Pvt. Kurt Lohmann of Wheeling and wife of Wilmette, visited relatives here during the holidays. Pvt. Lohmann was home on his first furlough since his induction last spring. At present he is serving as an ambulance driver stationed at Hammond General Hospital, Modesto, Calif.

Lt. John Sicks of Wheeling has been home on furlough for the holiday period, arriving from Indio, California on Friday, December 18. Lt. Sicks plans to enter an advance officers training course at Fort Knox soon. He, with his mother, has been spending the holidays with relatives in Arlington Heights.

Master Sergeant Robert Malzahn of Arlington Heights is stationed at Camp Beal, California. Bob wears service stripes of fifteen years of army life. "Like it better every year," says Bob.

Pfc. Paul Cosman of Mt. Prospect is now back at Fort Lewis, Washington. Most of his pals are now in Liberia, leaving him to "hold down the fort."

Iceland

"There are no eskimos up here, in case you are wondering," writes Pfc. Leonard Thake of Arlington Heights, who is stationed in Iceland.

"A fellow sure can save his dough up here and if you are as lucky at dice and cards as I have been, you can save a lot more. I've saved almost a thousand bucks since April. Not bad."

"I hope that if any of the guys I use to know see this letter, that they'll write to me. Those letters look mighty big up north."
Pvt. Thake's address is 1600/2995, Co. L 2nd Inf., U. S. Army, A.P.O. 5, co Postmaster, New York City.

England

August Dueball of Arlington Heights, who is stationed somewhere in England, has but one objection to army life in that country. "The country's fine, but they don't have cigars." August's address is 301st Serv. Squad., A.P.O. 634, c/o PM New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. William Duenn of Arlington Heights received a cablegram Monday from their son, Bob, who is stationed "somewhere in England." "Feeling fine, and can't wait to get at 'em," cabled Bob.

Texas

Paddock Publications this week received a letter from Lt. and Mrs. Harrison Kincaid of Palatine, who are now stationed at Ellington Field, Texas. Part of it is reprinted here, containing interesting information of what Texans are doing in the war effort.

Mrs. Harrison A. Kincaid had the rare opportunity of seeing the launching of seven ships Monday at the Brown Ship Yards at Houston, Texas. Two of these were large cruisers named after two Texas boys who lost their lives on the former U.S.S. Houston in the battle of the Java Seas. The five other boats were small destroyers. Secretary of the Navy Frank E. Knox, Speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn, Secretary of Commerce, Jesse E. Jones, spoke. Many other dignitaries were present. Mrs. Kincaid reports it to be the biggest thrill of her life to see the big ships hit the water.

At the same time the Army-Navy "E" was awarded the ship yard.

Houston set a goal of $36,000,000 in bonds to be raised with which to build a new U.S.S. Houston. In the twenty-one days allotted, $85,000,000 in bonds were sold. With the excess an aircraft carrier, to be named San Jacinto, will be built.

The Kincaids recently visited the San Jacinto monument which is the highest in the world, topping the Washington Monument by 12 feet. It is at the location of one of the biggest battles fought between the Texans and Mexicans. Sam Houston was the general who led the Texans in the battle of San Jacinto and after whom Houston, Texas is named. Davy Crockett and 150 Texas soldiers lost their lives in the battle of the Alamo in this same war— "Remember the Alamo."

Promotion of Douglas F. Milligan of Arlington Heights, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Milligan, 1118 North Duntun ave., from first lieutenant to captain at the Lubbock, Texas, Army Flying School, has been announced by Col. Thomas L. Gilbert, the commanding officer.

A graduate of Arlington Heights high school and the University of Illinois, Captain Milligan was commissioned on August 15, 1941. He was a flying instructor at Kelly Field, Texas, before being transferred to Lubbock in March of this year. He is now the operations officer of training squadron four.

Captain Milligan and his wife, the former Shirley Ann Platt of Barrington, reside at 2112 Broadway in Lubbock.

A copy of Cook County Herald brought into close contact the other day at Camp Bowie Corporal Demlow, whose parents reside south of Des Plaines and Lt. Stuart R. Paddock, former associate editor of Paddock Publications. For several months Lt. Paddock was executive officer of headquarters company, of which Demlow was a member, but they were not aware that they came from the same part of Illinois.

When the lieutenant saw Demlow with a copy of the Herald in his hands there was a new introduction. Demlow is a driver for the battalion commander. Paddock at present is commander of Company A of a Tank Destroyer battalion.

"Received my first copy of the Enterprise yesterday. It supplies the connecting link between camp life and home activities," writes Pvt. Charles Folkerts of Palatine. Folkerts is another local service man who was presented with the Enterprise as a gift of the American Legion and auxiliary of Palatine.

Pvt. Charles Folkerts' address is A.S.N. 36711173, Btry D155th C.A. Tng. Bn., Camp Wallace, Texas.

Wisconsin

Pvt. Erwin W. Backer of Arlington Heights writes this week from Camp McCoy, Wisconsin. Camp McCoy has been set up for I-B men, and is designed to get many of these men in shape for unimpaired service in the army.

Pvt. Backer has been serving as a cook at McCoy and expects to be transferred to Camp Custer, Michigan, soon as an instructor. "I am here in the hospital with bronchitis and fever, and two days ago one fellow here came down with the measles and now we're quarantined for 21 days. What a way to spend Christmas."

"Wish some of my old pals would write once in a while. A letter certainly looks good when you're in the army."

Pvt. Backer's address is Station Hospital, Ward 1063, Camp McCoy, Wisconsin.

Interesting sidelight of the letter was an enclosure of the day's menu prepared for the men at Camp McCoy. Included were six different dishes, regular, light, soft, liquid, ulcer and bland low residue, and fat free diets.

Camp Grant

S/Sgt. Leslie Deverman of Palatine, has been home on a 10-day furlough from Camp Grant. Upon the expiration of said furlough Les will report back to Camp Grant and leave the next day for Fargo, N. D., where he will enter a three month training period of the Army Administrative school.

Virginia

"Five down— one to go," is the way Pvt. Harold Gieseke of Arlington Heights expressed his life at training school in Virginia. He has covered five weeks of a six weeks course at Fort Belvoir. Harold's address is Co. B, 1st Bn. E.R.T.C., T.N.C.G.

Suburban Heights

A V-home follows the air raid precautions recommended by its Local Defense Council. Are you still turning out lights or fussing with blackout makeshifts when the air raid warning sounds? This reminder of the need for real preparations was drawn for OCD by Gluyas Williams. Make your home a V-home!

Capt. Douglas Milligan of Arlington Heights was recently promoted to that rank at the Lubbock, Texas, army flying school.

General orders

"Headquarters, Fort Riley, Kansas—General Order No. 2, First, Members of this Command will, when shooting at buffaloes on the parade ground, be careful not to fire in the direction of the Commanding Officers Quarters. Second, the troop officer having the best trained remount this year will be awarded one barrel of rye whiskey. Third, student officers will discontinue the practice of roping buffaloes. Fourth, attention of all officers is called to paragraph 107, Army Regulations in which it provides under uniform regulations that all officers will wear beards. (Signed) J. B. Beauregard, Colonel, Cavalry, U.S.S. Commanding." Hey, wait a minute. We forgot to tell you that the date of that order was October 25, 1842.

India

When Corporal John Gieseke of Wheeling received his first issue of the Cook County Herald in India, he spent the next two hours in reading it from cover to cover. He wants the chamber of commerce to know that he is very grateful for their interest in the service men. Unfortunately Corp. Gieseke had not received the first issues mailed to him because of a change in P. O. number. He said things had been quiet in India thus far, but that he expected it to be otherwise soon. Corp. Gieseke has been stationed with troops near Delhi.

Indiana

Pvt. Stanley Beckman, of Palatine, arrived at the Finance Replacement Training Center at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., recently to begin his basic training in finance. Upon completion of an intensive field training program, he will study army pay methods.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beckman, 45 West Robertson ave., Palatine. Prior to his induction, Pvt. Beckman was a traveling auditor for Public Service Co.

Mississippi

Illinois men serving in the Army Air forces at Key Field, Miss., were rewarded with promotion to various grades of non-commissioned officership last week. Included in the group was Corporal Aloysius M. Noll, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Noll of 1832 Prairie st., Glenview, who is a statistical clerk.

Tennessee

Willard "Butch" Schoepke of Arlington Heights spent a brief two day visit at home Sunday and Monday from duties with the navy at Memphis, Tennessee. "I like the food, get drenched by the rain, and prefer the coffee instead of that Great Lakes mud they gave us a while back."

Fort Sheridan

Pvt. Jack Haben of Wheeling, came from Fort Sheridan on Christmas morning to spend the day with his family. Jack is an enthusiastic soldier and says the treatment and food received at Fort Sheridan, is tops. He is looking forward to the time when he will enter training as a flying cadet.

Florida

Clifford Wente of Palatine, a comparatively new member in Uncle Sam's forces, also is grateful for the home town news. He says:

"Last night at mail call I was very happily surprised to receive the December 11 issue of the Palatine Enterprise. It makes me feel swell to know that so much is being done for those of us who are in our country's service. I, for one, appreciate it very much and think it a very swell gift."

"I haven't been away very long as yet, but I still like nothing better than to read the news of my home town and home people. I want to thank anyone who was in any way connected with or responsible for making it possible for us boys to get the paper."

"After reading this issue it sure convinces me that there is a lot of good fighting being done right there at home. My thanks again for the service is much better than most people believe. I'm in the best of health and we are all eating plenty of the fruit that Florida has to offer."

Very truly yours,
Pvt. Clifford J. Wente,
U. S. Army
551st Technical Training
Squadron (Sp) Flight N
A.A.F.T.T.C. Normans, Va.
Basic Training Center No. 4
Miami Beach, Fla.

Adolph Henry Busse, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Busse, Route 62, Arlington Heights, recently graduated from the Aviation Ordnance school at Jacksonville, Florida, after completing an intensive course in air ordnance.

He enlisted in the Navy July 13, 1942, and was sent to Great Lakes, for indoctrinal training before being transferred to the Jacksonville Station.

Now a qualified aviation ordnance man, Busse will probably be assigned to a Naval air unit for further duty.

Seaman Austin Buncick of Arlington Heights writes this week from Pensacola, Florida. "Florida's a fine place. I like it swell," writes Austin. His address is Austin B. Buncick SEA 1/C, U.S.C.G., P.O. box 1251, c/o Capt. of the Port, Pensacola, Florida.

"Sure like to get the Herald. Really brings one back home among the old gang," writes Adolph Busse of Mt. Prospect. Adolph's address is B.G. 5, U.S.N.A.S., Jacksonville, Florida. His brother, Norman, is at U.S.N.R.A.B., c/o Commissary, Glenview, Ill.

Pvt. John Rohlwing of Palatine, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rohlwing, who is stationed at the Signal Corps Training Station at Camp Murphy, Florida, has been promoted to the rank of Corporal after graduating from the Radio Technician Inst. of Newark, N. J., and he still is attending a Radio Technician School.

It's the law

OFFICIAL NEWSPAPERS
To the layman an official newspaper is apt to mean one which contains news of an official nature and is published under official authority or sanction. Sometimes, as in the case of City Bulletins, this is so. But in most instances it is a local newspaper of general circulation which has been designated as or has otherwise qualified as an official newspaper. By so doing it becomes an authorized medium for Public Notices and other forms of so-called Legal Advertising.

Not every publication that looks like a newspaper and claims to be one qualifies nor, in fact, can every bona fide newspaper meet the tests for an official newspaper. More than a score of specifications are fixed by law. These vary with the states and with the kind of Public Notice or other official advertising concerned. In all cases, however, the purpose is the same; to give due Notice in the widest possible manner so that those whose rights are affected by the proposed move or action may take heed.

Bona fide general circulation, paid circulation, local news coverage, admission to the U. S. mails as second class matter, and local publications are among the most common qualifications required. It is important that the spirit as well as the letter of the law be complied with in such matters. Only in this way can the full purpose of the law be met.

Palatine sailor gives own account of Boise battle

William H. Moody, of Palatine, son of Mrs. Eunice Moody and grandson of Mrs. Carrie Sanford, has been spending the past few weeks visiting friends and relatives here and in Chicago. Young Moody, who has earned the rating of Fireman 1st class, enlisted three years ago at the age of 17 for a six year period. He underwent a period of basic training at Great Lakes, and was then assigned to the U.S.S. Boise.

Anyone who has followed the naval engagements of the U. S. Pacific fleet, is familiar with the name U.S.S. Boise, even though its activities have not been followed as closely. The engagement where this ship so covered itself with glory was the one which took place at Cape Espérance, near the southern end of the Solomons, on October 11 or 12.

Perhaps it would be better to let young Moody give us that account in his own words.

"Our reconnaissance planes had returned to base and it soon got around that they'd spotted what we'd been looking for. So late in the afternoon of October 11, we pulled out and started for the positions that had been given us."

"We sighted our first ship about 15 minutes before midnight and opened up. We took them completely by surprise. They weren't even at their battle stations."

"Our gunners got a perfect hit and the first Jap ship was blown completely out of the water. The second, a destroyer, was cut exactly in half."

"They were shooting at us with 8 inch shells, filled with shrapnel. These pieces of metal, which look very much like rough ore, vary in size from 1 to 5 lbs. or more. These shells were falling like hail and about the time we took out our third Jap destroyer a heavy cruiser which had been lying in wait to beach and which we hadn't noticed opened up on us, and got in several salvos."

Deck afire
"In no time at all our forward deck was afire but we swung on her and kept firing until we could see her exploding one magazine after another. Our gunners believe in the rule 'Cut up from below and down from above.'"

"After the first salvo I was on the topside looking after the wounded and being as useful as possible. In battle we wear dungarees and steel helmets. We had surprisingly few casualties. At a time like that things happen so fast it's hard to realize it. We were so close that we could see the Japs running around their boats like the rats they are and yet it was all over in about 27 minutes."

"Iron Mike Moran, a Chicago Irishman is the best skipper in the whole fleet and he kept talking to us over the loud speaker during the whole time. He'd tell us what had happened to our other ships and what had happened to us and where men were needed. That guy's a real man."

"We were looking on the forward deck and finally decided to run for it, and lucky for us we hit a rain squall and got ourselves lost in it. The Japs thought we'd gone down and so did our own ships, but that was a break."

Boise goes home
The Boise limped into a secret base and the crew fell to work on temporary repairs. For four days

William Moody of Palatine who gives a thrilling account of the Boise battle in the Pacific in which numerous enemy ships were sunk.

the men worked in 4 hour shifts and lived on black coffee, sandwiches and soup. And then under its own power, and without escort, the Boise made its way to the Philadelphia Navy yard where it is undergoing complete repairs.

Several other items of note which were gleaned by your reporter came out in casual conversation. Moody told us that some of the shells which the Japs were using were old naval shells from World War I which they had bought and reconditioned."

Another item which is contrary to public opinion is the stature of the Japs. Moody says that more of them stand 5 ft. 9 in. or 6 ft. in height than around 5 ft. 5 or under. Very few Jap officers are captured, but as far as the enlisted men are concerned they will gladly grab a life line if there isn't an officer among them, especially those who have been educated in the U. S., as many of them have.

The destroyers and cruisers which were sunk in the above engagement were loaded with Jap Marines and were attempting to effect a landing on Guadalcanal. Their physical condition is very poor, and the equipment which was captured made mostly of substitute material.

Convoy Roosevelt
Moody was among the group that convoyed Capt. Jimmy Roosevelt's outfit over there and spoke very highly of him and his men. Since his enlistment Moody has visited many ports, among them the Philippines, Borneo, Java, Dutch East Indies, Ceylon, Australia, New Zealand and numerous small islands. The men are not allowed to keep any type of diary or journal.

Moody said "The first piece of mail that I got the night I landed was the Palatine Enterprise and boy was that really 'News from Home.' Moody is studying Diesel engineering and hopes to complete his course in the very near future."

"Chow" as it is called in the navy, is excellent and it was amusing to note the many different terms employed by our naval men. When asked if he had ever been subjected to air attack he said no they'd never tangled with a flat top (airplane carrier to you). Other terms used are red lead meaning catsup, grass when referring to lettuce, sugar is sand, and salt is known as sea dust, and if you hear a sailor referring to a breakfast of solisition mats don't be alarmed, he just enjoyed a stack of pancakes. A sea gull dinner means that chicken was on the menu and no sailor ever ties a tie, he "bends" it on.

Fireman 1st class William H. Moody, veteran at the age of 20, we salute you and wish you luck. To you is entrusted the job of keeping our soldiers supplied and digging in with those other boys in blue wherever and whenever it is necessary.

Moody is returning to the Boise on New Year's day.

Washington

Pfc. Paul Cosman, son of Mrs. Harvey Cosman, of 217 S. Emerson st., Mt. Prospect, was inducted into the army February 28, 1942. After spending a week and a half at Camp Grant, he was sent to Fort Lewis, Washington, where he is in the headquarters company in the infantry.

He has been transferred to Fort Angeles, Washington and to Salem, Oregon, but is now back at Fort Lewis, where he works in the office of the Headquarters Company. Most of the fellows who were sent to Fort Lewis, with him are now in Liberia.

Paul was employed by the North Western railroad in the office. He spent two weeks in Mt. Prospect when his father passed away last fall. His mother visited for several weeks in Seattle where she could see her son occasionally. The climate is very damp with lots of rain, and penetrating cold at night. The boys are kept busy in camp, although they occasionally get to town for some fun. His address is Regimental Headquarters, 114th Infantry, A.P.O. 44, Fort Lewis, Washington.

Kentucky

Several Palatine men who have received the Enterprise have written to thank the Legion and the Auxiliary for the pleasure given them by this most welcome gift.

Sgt. Henry Petersen, Jr., writes as follows: "I certainly want to thank you for the kind consideration shown to our boys from Palatine who are in the service."

"It (The Enterprise), has given me a great deal of pleasure and has helped pass away what would have been another lonely evening at camp. Here's hoping that we'll all be back home again as soon as our Victory is achieved. Let me thank you once again and wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a happy New Year."

Sincerely,
Sgt. Henry Petersen Jr. 36028091

has filed suit against Morris Goldstein for $10,000 damages for causing her brother's death in an automobile accident. It is stated that the deceased was on August 16, a passenger in the car of Fred Schweder on Rte. 53 near R. 62.
Goldstein was driving on Rte. 62 and negligently collided with the Schroeder car, killing Baranowski.
The deceased left several brothers and sisters for whom the damages are asked.

Queen and Cigarettes

Queen Mary of England is a cigarette smoker. A disclosure of this fact was made by an English weekly, the People, in July, 1930, and appears to have caused some surprise in court circles. It was stated that she rarely indulges, and only in her private sitting room, usually after dinner, also that only the most intimate members of her household had ever seen her smoke.

READING & WRITING BY Edwin Seaver and Robin McKinn

THE Book-of-the-Month Club seems to have moved in on the Solomon Islands. For January, the Club has selected "Headhunting in the Solomon Islands," by Caroline Mytinger, which gives the best account we have read to date of what life is like in these South Pacific Isles. Then for February, the book-of-the-month will be "Guadalcanal Diary" by Richard Tregas-kis, which brings us right up to the present with the first eye-witness account of the successful invasion by our marines.

Caroline Mytinger is an attractive young American artist. Together with her friend, Margaret Warner, she spent two and a half years in the South Pacific, head-hunting among the natives—who had once been real head-hunters—with a paintbrush.
Miss Mytinger wielded the brush; Miss Warner played the ukulele to keep the models quiet.

Their first white model was the huge Scotch Captain Voy of the Mataram, an island steamer. It was a lucky choice, for Captain Voy was loved throughout the South Seas, and his recommendation did a lot toward making their way easier for them.

Their first native model was less satisfactory. In Malaita, the manager of the steamship company offered them one of his workers for a model —told them to go up to his house and wait. They did so, but no one showed up. Disconsolately they started back down a narrow lonely road lined with hibiscus. Then they suddenly heard a piercing scream and a terrifying savage, face smeared with white paint and brandishing a bundle of five-foot spears came toward them. They ran—and the cannibal ran after them, howling as he did so. As they neared the boat, they caught sight of their Captain Voy, shaking with laughter. Their savage pursuer was none other than the promised model. He had been told to clean up for a "pic-a-ture" and he had spent hours doing his native best.

Another time the two girls nearly got themselves in trouble was when they unknowingly left their horse in an egg garden. This was in Tanakombo. The egg garden was a cleared space where the megapodes —a kind of brush turkey—laid their eggs, and every day the native men went there to collect them. But no women. Somehow, they believe, a woman is simply poison to a man's industry. So when Caroline and Margaret appeared for their horse, they were greeted with no welcome. Margaret got them out of that difficulty by whistling. The outraged natives watched her in fascination and one by one they tried to whistle too.

In addition to learning about primitive civilization, the girls picked up a considerable amount of pidgin English. For instance, "sore-leg-along-arm" which, translated, simply means, "sore arm." The reason is that scratched or infected legs are such a common ailment in the South Seas that "sore-leg" has become the equivalent of any sickness, whatsoever. If a native wants to show you he likes you he says,
"thankyouverymuchpleasedineday" and if he wants to impress you with one of his possessions—whether it be a fine new pair of safety-pin earrings, a bit of red calico—he will assure you it is "something belong village lone time before."

City seeks free phones, profits of phone company

Back in 1922 the city of Des Plaines entered into a franchise with the Des Plaines telephone company whereby certain special rights would be given, viz: string-ing of wires, erection of poles, etc.
The city would benefit through two "free" phones and two per cent of the gross sales.

The original franchise has now expired with a renewal coming up, but the picture has changed. Population of the city has changed from 2,800 to 10,000. Des Plaines Telephone company has become Middle States Telephone Co. The city has use for more than two phones, especially of the "free" variety.

Present favors sought by the city are ten free phones, 3 per cent take, and the company's acceptance of exclusive responsibility for all fire alarms and notification of volunteers. The phone company says
o.k. to the first two but thumbs down on the third.

Permission has been given the company to operate under the old franchise until a new one is drawn up.

Northbrook

A VERY HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL

The Red Cross will start their meetings Tuesday, January 5, at 10 a. m. You are most welcome to come and help sew, and enjoy a pleasant day.

Masses at St. Norbert's are on Sunday schedule for New Year's Day. Start the new year right and attend your church.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Bleich of Wood Dale, were the supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stoelting, last Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Therrien spent Christmas with their son,
Charles and family at Hanover.

Northbrook Camp Royal Neighbors of America will hold their installation Monday evening, January 12. All members are urged to attend.

We are sorry to report that Mr.
Fred Stoelting had the misfortune to break his left wrist last week Monday. The back door fell on his arm, badly bruising it and breaking a bone in his wrist.

Mrs. Frieda Klaner was the guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs.
John Pyles of Norwood Park at a Christmas dinner.

Christmas was a sad day for Mr.
and Mrs. Carl Pomplum of Walter ave. It was the day that their son, Carl, passed away at the age of 21 years. He had been sick for several months, an illness that caused him to weigh 45 lbs. The funeral was held at the Haupt funeral home on Monday, December 28, at 2 p. m. Services were officiated by Rev. Bizer of the St.
Peter's Ev. Neighbor church. Interment at St. Peter's. He leaves to mourn him besides his parents, a brother, Walter, who is in service overseas.

Many Northbrook people attended the funeral of Mr. Henry Trier of Dundee rd. last Wednesday. He was the son of Mrs. H. Trier, and was 49 years old. Funeral was held from Lauers home on Wednesday, with burial at Northfield cemetery.

Many friends of Mr. Laurensen were surprised to learn of his passing away. The funeral was Monday, December 28. He at one time worked in the brick yard and had many friends in this community.

AN OVEN DINNER THAT'S EASY

Here's a cozy home dinner for a winter's day. One you can have baking in the oven while you write thank you notes to friends who remembered you for Christmas—or make a list of New Year Resolutions—or write your good wishes for the New Year to relatives and friends. The main dish is inexpensive and really very good eating.
Your family will be delighted with it. We call it "Full o' Bologney" and as you read the recipe you'll see why.

FULL O' BOLOGNEY
1½ cups cut-up bologna (½ lb.
cut in ½ inch pieces)
2 cups cubed uncooked potatoes
(½ inch cubes)
2 tbsps. minced green pepper
Arrange alternate layers of bologna, potatoes, green pepper, dry ingredients which have been sifted together, and dots of butter in a 7 or 8 inch baking dish... until all the ingredients have been used.
Pour milk over all. Bake about 1 hour and 15 minutes in a moderate oven (350° F.). This makes 4 to 6 servings.

CHERRY CARNIVAL DESSERT
½ cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs
2¼ cups all-purpose flour
1½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. soda
Cream the shortening, add the sugar gradually, and cream thoroughly. Blend in the well beaten eggs. Sift flour once before measuring. Sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt together, and add alternately with the milk to creamed mixture. Blend in the well-drained cherries and nuts. Pour into greased and floured pan. Bake 45 to 50 minutes in a moderate oven, 350° F., in an 8 x 12 inch pan. This makes 12 servings, 3 inches square.

Hot Cherry Sauce
½ cup sugar
2 tbsps. cornstarch ½ cup cherry juice (from No. 2 size can of sour cherries) Mix sugar, salt and cornstarch together in saucepan. Blend in the cherry juice and water. Boil until the mixture thickens and the starchy taste disappears (about 10 minutes), stirring constantly until the mixture boils but only occasionally after that. Blend in the almond flavoring. This makes enough for 6 generous servings.

If you have any specific cooking problems, send a letter requesting information to Betty Crocker in care of this newspaper. You will receive a prompt, personal reply. Please enclose 5 cent stamp to cover postage.

This Week in Wheeling

Edward Wesolek, Jr., was the honored guest at a dinner given by his aunt, Mrs. Paul Dueball, last week. On Christmas day and on Sunday relatives gathered at the Wesolek home to enjoy a family celebration before Edward's leaving for the army.

Edward Wesolek, Jr., William Miller, Jr., and Philip Carpenter left for Fort Sheridan on Monday to begin their army careers.

new year at the school house, Monday evening, January 4 at 8 P. M.
Following the general theme of this school year of "building tomorrow's citizens", the theme for Monday's meeting will be "We Build Safety." New members are always welcome.

The annual P.T.A. Christmas party was enjoyed by sixty persons on Monday evening, December 21, and was held in the community hall. A musical program was given by several young people under the direction of Ray Lesch.
After a short business meeting, an hour was spent playing bingo. Refreshments were served on festi-vally decorated tables and gifts were exchanged.

The community hall was filled on Tuesday evening, December 22, when the chamber of commerce invited Santa to visit the children of the community. A brief program of carols was held around the large Christmas tree. After this Santa presented all children present with a generous bag of nuts, fruit and candy.

Miss Bertha Keith is spending the holiday vacation with her family in Mount Sterling, Ill.

Sgt. Eldon Belzer has been visiting relatives here while off duty on furlough.

Miss Edna Morrison spent the week-end with her mother at the home of her uncle, John Morrison, at Bellwood.

The Landon family motored to Lockport, Ill., to spend Christmas with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koelper of Palatine rd., have recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Erna, to Andrew Koeppen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Koepfen, Sr. This happy occasion helped to make a very enjoyable Christmas for the families.

recently.

Members participating contributed one dollar per week with one name drawn each time for the bond. After everyone had received their quota, the extra bonds were awarded lottery fashion.

Don't like horse meat? — then try mule meat

A recent news report that 30,000 pounds of horse meat were sold by one Boston butcher in forty-eight hours revives memories for John Strohm, assistant editor of Prairie Farmer, who for quite some time had a steady diet of horse and donkey meat during the Spanish Civil War.

"All of this talk about horse meat brings back memories of days when I had nothing else to eat," said Strohm. "Why we even ate dog meat in Madrid and were very happy to get it. From my experi-

John Strohm, assistant editor of Prairie Farmer, tells about eating horse and donkey meat in Spain.

ence, I'm inclined to side in with medical science and nutrition experts who agree that aside from American prejudice, there's really nothing wrong with horse meat, especially if one compares its merits with donkey meat."

According to Strohm, who was on a free lance trip around the world at the time he first became acquainted with the taste of horse meat, its price, five years ago, was more expensive than beef in Czech oslovakia, Belgium and other European countries. Good horse meat has a rather sweet taste and many people like it better than pork or beef, he explained.

"It was in war-torn Spain that I had my real initiation to the food," stated Strohm. "Because of the bitter and bloody war, food was very, very scarce. I only knew a word or two of Spanish but managed to order a meal my first day in Barcelona. The meat was as tough I could hardly chew it."

Strohm made a protest to the waiter, who in turn proceeded to explain to the "dumb Americano" the kind of food he was eating.

"First," Strohm said, "he pointed to the meat, and then putting his hands up to the side of his head so that they extended like ears, he flapped his hands and at the same time uttered the not-to-be-mistaken barn yard sound: 'Hee-haw! Hee-haw! Hee-haw!'"

"I caught on pronto," explained Strohm, "but it was some time before I could get used to eating donkey meat. I was afraid it would bray right in my face."

"However, there was one thing that saved the day. Grape juice was plentiful. And with every meal there was a bottle of the beverage. It is a miracle to think just what one small swallow of this fruit juice, used as a chaser, will do to a mouthful of donkey meat. Make mine horse meat any time," concluded the Prairie Farmer editor.

National debt load tops $3,000 per U. S. family

Amount expected to reach $3,800 by June of 1943

War expenditures have skyrocketed the federal debt past the $100,000,000,000 mark and, according to present estimates, the debt load per family in the United States soon will exceed the national income per family for the first time in history. On Dec. 1, the debt load per family (comprising four persons) was $2,872 while average income per family was $3,207. Barron's national business and financial weekly, in its December 14 issue, compares the debt load and national income per family for the three census periods beginning in 1920. That year, income per family was $2,973 — three times more than the debt load. Federal indebtedness declined during the twenties as families increased and by 1930 national income averaged $2,310 per family or more than four times the debt load. Then followed years of deficit. By 1937 the debt per family exceeded the World War I peak of more than $1,000 and kept climbing, until, in 1940, it had risen to $1,233 against a national income per family of $2,214. At the present rate, Bar-reported that employment on new construction projects in 1943 would drop to an average of little more than 1,000,000 workers, making an equal number available for other work.

Manpower

Production

A production report released by WPB states that 1943 production for war alone will have to equal the value of all the goods and services produced by the nation in its years of greatest prosperity. Although the U. S. is making as many combat weapons today as the entire axis, in 1943 it will have to do a "better than $90,000,000,000 war job."

Under Secretary of War Patterson gave the following figures for 1942 production of war weapons—more than 23,000 tanks, more than 3,000 90-MM anti-aircraft guns, more than 9,000 40-MM anti-aircraft guns, more than 300,000 .50 cal. machine guns, and more than 500,000 machine guns of all types, and small arms ammunition comprising the line at better than 1,000,000,000 rounds a month. Maritime announced a new monthly record in the production of Liberty ships—68 Liberty ships were turned out in November at an average of only 56 days from keel-laying to delivery. This is a cut of 10 days from the October average, and represents one-fourth of the time necessary last January when the program was started.

The dollar value of military supplies acquired for the Army in 1942, included all munitions and equipment, was set by Under Secretary Patterson at $25,000,000,000, as against $5,000,000,000 in 1941 and $1,000,000,000 in 1940. Munitions, exclusive of aircraft, acquired by the Army this year will amount to $11,000,000,000, or about 90 per cent of U. S. and allied stated requirements.

Agriculture

January 12, 1942, by Presidential proclamation, will be Farm Mobilization Day. The President has asked farmers to meet on that day with Department of Agriculture representatives, state officials, farm organizations and others concerned, to discuss ways and means of insuring maximum 1943 production of vital foods on every farm in the country.

Final reports on 1942 agricultural production set the total crop at 3,175,154,000 bushels and the total wheat crop at 981,327,000 bushels, with total production of all crops 14 per cent higher than in 1941 and 12 per cent higher than in the banner year of 1937. According to Under Secretary of War Patterson, the canning industry of the U. S. Hawaii and Alaska also produced a record 1942 pack—over 300,000,000 cases of canned fruits, vegetables and fish, as compared to 1941 production of 236,000,000 cases.

Cost of living

The Bureau of Labor Statistics comprehensive index of nearly 900 wholesale price series now stands at the highest level in more than 16 years. The index for farm products has risen nearly 21 per cent in the past year and is now 12 per cent higher than for the year 1926, and the index of retail food costs on November 17 stood at the highest point reached since January, 1930, having advanced 40 per cent since the outbreak of the war in Europe. Survey figures from the OPA report department demonstrate that the nations rent index, which skyrocketed in 1941 and early 1942, has dropped fast since the OPA brought critical industrial centers under legal rent control. Four months after OPA issued its first maximum rent regulation in June, 1942, the rent index for wage earners in 34 large cities had dropped from its spring 1942 high to the level prevailing at the time of Pearl Harbor.

New fuel oil

A new fuel mixture perfected by chemists of the Berwind White Coal Mining Company of New York is said to increase the heating power of fuel oil by 45 per cent. It's composed of 55 per cent fuel oil and 45 per cent pulverized bituminous coal... Family food bills are now 7.8 per cent higher than in mid-May—about the time price rationing began. Retail food costs on November 17 stood at

LIFE WITH MOTHER

It Happened Here

Dear Eleanor,
Your Christmas letter was such a dear and everyone of us say thank you ever so much. It made your old friend Mary just a little "weepee". I think Christmas with its sweet memories does that to all of us. It made me think how lovely it would be if we could be together—children and all—to sing some carols during the holidays. And, how much we would love to hear Dave read aloud Dickens's famous "Christmas Carol". He still does on Christmas Eve, doesn't he?
Instead of my usual letter to you, I wonder if you'd mind me telling Dave and Louis a story that is a favorite of our boys? It is called, "The Legend of the Christmas Candle", the author is unknown.

Once long ago, in Australia, there lived an old shoemaker in a little cottage, on the edge of a village. And although this humble man had very little, either for himself, or to share with others, his goodness of heart was such that each evening he placed in his window a lighted candle as a sign of welcome to weary travelers who might be seeking in the dark for shelter.

War came to the village... and famine... yet the little light never wavered. Each night it took its place to send forth its lowly beams as a message of cheer to forlorn wayfarers.
Great hardships came. Sons died in battle. Crops failed. Animals starved for want of grain. Yet always, somehow, the old shoemaker suffered less than others. It was almost as though there were a special charm upon him, until at last the peasants said: "Surely there is something different about him that he is spared. Let us too place lights within our windows."

The time of the year was winter and the suffering was acute. Only the old men were left in the village for the war was still raging. Now it happened that the day the peasants took council was the day before Christmas... and the first night the candles were set to burn in every window was Christmas Eve.

And when the next morning came, lo... it was as though a miracle had transpired. There was a soft glow and mantle of snow over the village like a gentle blessing, but there was something more

... a new air of peace... of hope... and before the sun had done more than cast its first bright gleams on the spire of the tiny church, there came a messenger, riding breathlessly to bring the glad news that Peace had come! The church bells chimed and the people knelt in prayer, and there was a feeling of Christmas glory such as there had not been in many years.

The peasants were awed. "It was the candles," they whispered, "they have guided the little wandering Christ Child to our doorstep! We must never fail to light our candle on His Birthday."
From such a long-ago beginning, this beautiful custom has now spread all over the world. On Christmas Eve millions of window-sending out the message of hope and cheer that never grows old.

And now goodnight dear little David and Louis I hope you liked this old, old story. George and Edward send their best love to you both and Charlotte. And Happy New Year to everyone at Shady Rest from all of us here at Hill top.

Lovingly,
Mary.

ON MY FROSTED WINDOW PANE
Here is beauty deftly caught
Where some dreaming artist wrought;
Baskets spun of crystal wire
Hold the winter sunshine's fire;
Here a rarely plumaged bird
Stalks where no least fern is stirred;
Jewelled eye and flaming crest
Praise the offerings of the west;
Galleons with sails aspread
By long fairy ropes are led;
Nets are spread so frail they break
With the silver hords they take;
Arthur's sword with gems bedight
Lifts from foam to serve the knight.
Beauty comes, we know not how,
In its service humbly bow.

Part-Time Preacher Wins Big Following in Fight Against "Synthetic Christianity"

Having received nearly a million and a half letters from his Lutheran Hour radio audience, it should seem that Dr. Walter A. Maier would have no fear for the future of Christianity in the United States.

But radio listeners from coast to coast have heard the noted evangelist declare that America is not the pre-ponderantly Christian country so many people believe it to be. He doesn't base this assertion only upon the fact that about 70 million people stay away from church, but principally upon what he terms a trend toward "synthetic Christianity."

As a professor at Concordia Theological Seminary, St. Louis, Dr. Maier has been training divinity students for 20 years in the fundamental doctrine that Jesus Christ is the atoning, redeeming Saviour, and that the Bible is the divinely inspired word of God.
And he spends his Sundays preaching that same doctrine on a nation-wide radio network. Meanwhile, he says, other preachers and teachers are spreading the doctrine that Jesus is merely a guide, leader or virtuous man, and the Bible only a moral code.

Selected by the Lutheran Laymen's League in 1930 as the speaker for its "Bringing Christ to the Nation" broadcast, Dr. Maier's two-fisted "Back-to-the-Bible" crusade has produced remarkable results.

Once heard over only two stations, his messages are now carried by 391
stations in 26 lands and, for Latin-American audiences, in the Spanish language as well as English. His listeners have written him nearly a million and a half letters.

Teaching or preaching the Bible seven days a week keeps
Dr. Maier keenly alert for what he calls attempts to "sabotage"
the Scriptures. Educators and clergymen who have shown a tendency to question the Bible often have heard a forthright challenge from this dynamic Bible advocate on the coast-to-coast Lutheran Hour the following Sunday. Early in his broadcasting career, in fact, Dr. Maier issued a standing challenge—which he has repeatedly reiterated—for anyone to prove the Scriptures in error.

Atheism, unbelief, disinterest in the church, immorality and misunderstanding, Dr. Maier agrees, are retarding the spread of true Christianity in America.
But the greatest danger to the church, he asserts, comes from "an educated, intelligent class offering a pseudo, convenient type of religion"
in the name of Christianity.

Two-fisted Dr. Maier challenges anybody to prove the Bible wrong

A YEAR of sacrifice and hardship lies behind us. It is our sincere hope that the fruits of these sacrifices will come more and more into evidence in 1943, and that the reassuring influences of steady progress will first be felt at your own fireside.

Most sincerely we wish you a Happy New Year.

Japanese Paint "Not Very Good"
When President Roosevelt viewed a Japanese flag captured in the marine raid on Makin island, which he refused to touch, he observed that the Rising Sun of Japan was painted on white sail cloth. "Not very good

Arlington grabs first win of year against Ela, 31-25

Tornadoes also victorious, 3-15

by JOE SMART

Santa Claus brought a welcome gift to Arlington last Wednesday night with a double victory for the home teams. The Cards won their first game of the season, beating Ela 31-25 after the Tornadoes had trimmed Ela's junior varsity 31-15.

The Cards started off on Kleinert's free throw, but Weber immediately matched it for Ela. Peeters then hit two baskets from far out, and from that time on the Cards were never headed. Ladd dropped in a free throw for the visitors, but Kohler and Peeters hit for baskets as the first quarter came to a close.

Weber started off the second quarter with a basket, but Hodges matched it with one under the basket. Ela closed the gap a bit when Ladd dropped in three charity tosses in short order, but the Cards were not to be denied, and Peeters and Hodges hit from close under to put the score at 15-7 as the half ended.

Peeters, Hodges, and Coleman hit baskets to start the second period while Weber was getting one for the visitors. The Cards now led 21-9. At this point Ela put on a strong rally which almost caught the Cards. Rudy hit two baskets, and Weber and Basa got free throws while Kohler was getting his second basket for the Cards. Rudy hit another one from far out and Weber got a bucket, and a charity toss. Kleinert got his only basket as the third period ended with the Cards in front 25-20.

The fourth quarter proved to be a see-saw affair with the Cards coming out with a slight advantage. Peeters dropped a charity toss for the Cards only to be covered by Rudy's basket which was matched by Hodges' tip in. Ela's last effort was a basket by Ladd and a free throw by Lohr. This was soon matched by Russell's basket and Hodges' free throw and the game ended with the Cards on top 31-25.

The Cards played good ball and deserved this win. Their shooting is becoming more accurate with each game they play. Hodges and Peeters played good ball to lead the Cards with 9 and 11 points respectively, but all the Cards played a good ball. Rudy, Weber and Ladd led Ela by making 23 of the 25 points. Five men were sent to the showers on fouls as the officiating was closely done by two good referees.

Tornadoes Win

The Tornadoes proved to be too good for the Ela junior varsity, as they overwhelmed them 31-15. Two baskets by Weber and one by K. Page, against two free throws by Ela set the score at 6-2 at the first quarter. The Tornadoes ran up a long lead on three baskets by Weber, two by Massey, and a basket and a free throw by Thompson against five points for Van Over in the second quarter. The half ended with the Tornadoes in front 19-7. The Tornadoes strung out five baskets in the third quarter while Holland was getting three points for the visitors. The score was 29-10 starting the final period. During the last quarter substitutes took over the reins for the Tornadoes, Kamps making a basket against Holland's five points. Final tally was 31-15.

Palatine Wins Mile

Klaus Timmerhaus won the mile run at the Oak Park relays for Palatine and this fall was one of the best three frosh cross country runners at the University of Illinois. Bob O'Hagan of Arlington won another letter as right halfback on a good Marquette University eleven. Coach Kirby of Bensenville had the best golf team in either of the local leagues but no championships were recognized in this sport. Arlington's battery of Crawford and Winkelman was the best in the Northwest and Johnson the best third sacker. Johnson was honored as the outstanding athlete of the year at Arlington. Bensenville had five outstanding track men in Audas, Kiefer, Tett, Bornack, and Reetz, who accounted for seven individual first places in the Northwest meet but lost to Palatine.

Palatine had two outstanding frosh track men. C. Vogt won the conference mile and K. Muehlheit won the 220 at the Evanston Invitational Frosh-Soph meet. Highlights of early season basketball include Libertyville beating Waukegan, Niles whipping Evanston, and Palatine outpointing New Trier all of the big suburban League.

Hebron and Woodstock are tourney favorites

First Round

Crystal Lake 26, Marengo 21.
Hebron 49, McHenry 40.
Harvard 27, Huntley 19.
Woodstock 38, Richmond 8.

Second Round

7:30—Crystal Lake vs. Hebron.
8:30—Woodstock vs. Harvard.

Favored teams survived the opening round of the McHenry county tournament now in progress at Woodstock. Crystal Lake, Hebron, and Harvard had one too easy a time in beating Marengo, McHenry, and Huntley, but Woodstock really drubbed Richmond by a 38-8 count in first round competition. Hebron and Woodstock are favored to whip Crystal Lake and Harvard respectively Tuesday night and meet in the finals to be played Wednesday. The tournament has been won by Hebron the past four years. Al Grosche of Waukegan and Dean Carter of Belvidere are acting as the officials of the tournament.

Betsy

The little girl tugged gently at her mother's sleeve. "Now, Mother," she asked. "Now can't we write my letter?" "Why of course, Betsy," Mrs. Carson grinned. "Are you going to write it or am I?" "Well," Betsy said. "Maybe you'd better kind of say it to me. Only I'd love to write it."

"All right, then, Miss Carson, take a letter," her mother said, walking slowly up and down the room. "Ready?" "Dear Mr. Margentha: The way I save money for War Stamp buying is to steer all the small household jobs to ward my daughter, who is eight years old. She is so keen about buying War Stamps that I know all the money I might have paid to someone else for doing the jobs will go toward Victory when paid to her."

"Now make a list, Betsy. 'Windows washed, 60 cents. Apples picked from under the tree, 25 cents. Emptied trash cans, 4 cents. Sold string beans from the garden, 15 cents. Sold strips of spoiled film to children for sun-gazing, at one cent a yard, 20 cents. Total, $1.24. Yours helpfully, I hope, and then I'll sign it at the bottom.'"

Betsy was puffing like a grampus from her labors. The tall, painstaking letters tottered bravely across the sheet of paper. Gravelly Mrs. Carson took the pen to sign. "Mother, would it be the proper etiquette if I signed it too?" "Perfectly proper, I think," Mrs. Carson said without a smile, and handed the pen back to Betsy.

(Letter from an actual communication in the files of the Treasury Department.)

Every member of the family should invest in America's future. Make certain at least 10 percent of the family's total income is pledged to victory no later than New Year's Day.

How to Pronounce

Here is the way to pronounce the names of the three best known Russian leaders: Maxim Litvinoff—Max-eeem (accent slightly on the last syllable), Lit-vee-noff (accent on vee), Mikhail Kalinin—Mik-ka-eel (accent on eel), Josef Stalin—Yo-sef (accent on Yo), Stahl-eeen (accent on Stahl).

Proportions in Color Schemes While no hard and fast rule has been established for color schemes and certain conditions may require modifications, one theory is that the dominant color should approximate one-half of the total color scheme, augmenting hues one-third, and a contrasting hue one-sixth.

Palatine whips Antioch in final two minutes, 31-28

Hold Barnstable to eight points; lights win

Playing one of their best games of the season, Palatine's varsity five came from behind in the final two minutes to whip Antioch 31-28 last Tuesday night on the Lake county school's own court. Antioch had a string of six straight triumphs, but fell before the Pirates who were led by high scoring Norman Harris who collected 19 points.

While the Pirates were holding Barnstable in check his teammate, Fields, hit consistently to keep Antioch in front 10-6, 17-15 and 25-22 at the eight minute rest intervals. Harris opened the final period with two field goals which brought the count to 28-26 for Antioch as he left the game on personal fouls with four minutes to go. Howes too, the place of Harris and soon hit two free throws to tie the score and then with two minutes to go Stinson sank the winning basket. Antioch shot wildly in the last period, getting only one goal in 18 tries with the game at stake. Palatine's final point, a free throw by Hayes, came in the final second of the game.

Both teams took 55 shots and made 11 baskets. The Pirates won the game by a free throw margin of nine to six. Palatine held the great Barnstable and his 21 point game average to a mere eight points. Fields was best for Antioch with 12. It was Palatine's sixth victory in seven games and their fifth straight against N. W. Conference schools.

Palatine's lights fell behind 9-2 in the lightweight game but held Antioch to a single point in the second and third quarters and breezed in front to a 20-10 lead. They coasted in a 27-21 winner in spite of a late Antioch rally. Lin-

Happy New Year

This is "Mac" speaking and wishing all the coaches and officials of this area a HAPPY NEW YEAR. May the sports programs in the high schools of the Northeast and Northwest Conference be expended to meet the needs of our armed forces rather than contracted. That is our wish for the new year. This includes continuing a full program of basketball the rest of the season and going back to interscholastic track, baseball, and football on a conference basis. In addition we must in this new year concentrate our physical education programs upon delivering to the armed forces boys who are in tip top physical condition as they are called through the draft. This means an intensive conditioning program for senior boys. We are doing our country and our boys a good turn if we carry out this idea.

neman was chief Pirate scorer with 12 points. It was the sixth victory in seven games for Coach Stutzman's lightweight.

Paging Emily Post

It just isn't good etiquette to cut in on a dance too soon, the men at Camp Berkeley, Texas, decided. They adopted this rule: No man could cut in on a dance until the couple had taken at least 25 steps. Up came Private Charles J. Brown with an idea. When he saw a girl he wanted to dance with, he followed her and her partner, subtly counting the steps aloud in rhythm with the music.
